During the summer several MSHS students attended workshops to obtain the

for certain activities at school this year. The Tiger band climaxed its summer practices with a week-long stay at band camp. There, under the direction of Mr. Knox, the band members were drilled on marching skills for the football season and parades ahead. At cheer camp, the varsity cheerleaders not only prepared for football and basketball games, but also succeeded in winning fifth place in the competition. Attending a journalism workshop at Ohio University were Kathy Schafer, Nancy Caskin, Linda Atkins, and Ann Simpson. While the Orian staff Members focused their attention on yearbook skills, Drew Cayton and Mark Shepherd were attending a conference at WVU learning the skills of newspaper production. In preparation for a big year on the Student Council, Don Baker, Donna Curtis, Sheryl Smith, Alex Krivchenia, and Craig Conrath attended a Student Council workshop at Ohio Northern.

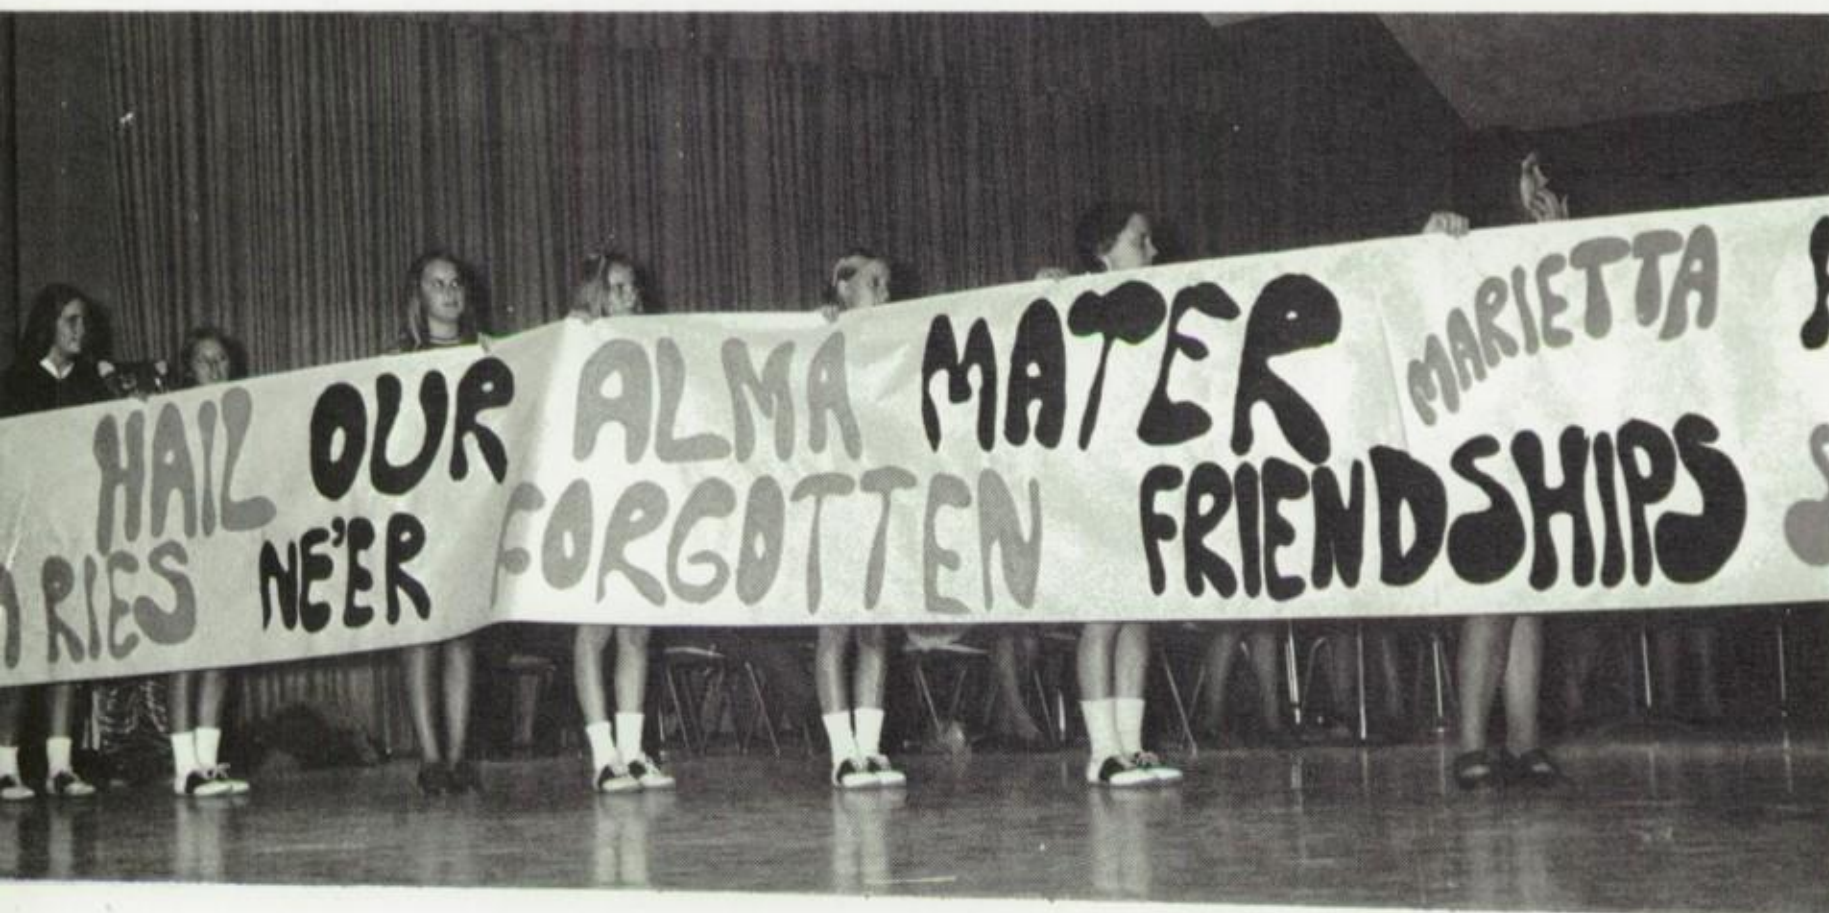

For Marietta Senior High School students the key word is

Involvement

In addition to classroom involvement, many students become involved either as a spectator or player in the school's athletic programs and as a member of one or more of the various clubs which meet throughout the year. While there is no music club at MSHS, those students with an interest in music become involved in the band, orchestra, or choir. Those who wish to become involved in performing services for the school act as aides in the main office, cafeteria, guidance office, library, and nurse's office, while those with a flare for drama become involved in the student body assemblies and theatrical productions.

Many students allow time outside the school hours for in the community. Not only does this service add something to the community, but it also provides extra money for the student. At a local radio station, Don Baker spins disks for his listening audience. Ruth Spencer assists students in handicrafts at the Friendship School. Other students such as Lynn Dewey, Alan Hall, and Lois Scott perform jobs in a dress shop, public library, and bank respectively. Junior and senior girls acting as candy strippers volunteer their services to local hospitals.

1970 homecoming makes it!

H

A blazing bonfire (PIC. D) marked the beginning of this year's Homecoming ceremonies. Amid such tragedies as the car of the varsity cheerleaders (PIC G), Joy Barnes, Kathy Smithberger, Mary Ann Shammel, Cathy Rhinesmith, and Darcie Caltrider (Nancy Webb not pictured), breaking down, the parade with the candidates, floats and snake dance wound its way through town to the stadium, where the floats were judged. Hard work went into the construction of all the floats, but the Sophomores, under the command of Chuck Swaney, won first prize for their theme, "Get the Red Out." (PIC C) Led by Cathy Smith, Gerard Modecki and Mark Haskins, Seniors constructed the Tiger Queen (PIC A) for their theme, "Paddle Big Reds." Terry Archer, Judy Cox and Jeff Williams headed construction of the Junior float, (PIC B) "Tigers Swamp Reds."

At half-time five lovely candidates (PIC E) and their escorts, Polly Wigton and Mark Haskins, Sally Archer and Hobie Burgnon, Nancy Webb and Geoff Curran, Nancy Engle and Rick Turner, Marilyn Curtis and Larry Hall, (PIC F), respectively, walked across the field where the 1969 Queen, Charlotte Raybuck, crowned Marilyn Curtis as the 1970 Homecoming Queen. To make the evening even more exciting, after battling the Bellaire Big Reds for three quarters to a 0 to 0 tie, in the fourth quarter, the mighty Tigers pulled through to a 12 to 0 victory. (PIC H) The next evening, Saturday, Queen Marilyn reigned at the dance, "The Jungle Safari," headed by Jenny Joyce and Terry Pape.

Students think positively.

From October 5th through the 11th the Senior class presented "Project Positivism" in an attempt to inspire the students, faculty, and administration to think positively about school, work, the world, the nation, and life in general.

Throughout the week posters bearing thought-provoking proverbs decorated the halls (PIC b) while each day bore a new slogan with one or more related activities. On "Togetherness Day," Monday, a Togetherness Tree (PIC a) occupied a corner in the cafeteria. At noon students and faculty wrote a statement of good feeling on a leaf and placed it on the tree. By the end of the lunch hours, the tree was covered with these leaves. Tuesday, cancelled because of apathy, was replaced with Wednesday, Part I, which was "Smiley Day". On that day Craig Conrath and Fred Doak, (PIC f) two of the many smiling representatives, passed out smile badges, and in the cafeteria at noon students voted for the prettiest smile. After Linda Patterson presented Kathie Robinson with the "Mr. Smiley" award at the Wednesday assembly, five Senior boys, Fred Doak, Dwight Mills, Ed Barry and Don Baker, danced to the song "You've Got to Accentuate the Positive." (PIC d) then the Phantom Philosopher (alias Walter McVeigh) presented two members of the faculty and eight students with the "Good Guy Awards." On Thursday, "Zodiac Day," students (Jill Parks) bought their fortunes for a penny in the cafeteria from Karen Flanagan and Diana Dunn. (PIC c) Friday, "Badge Day," each Senior acquired a badge containing sayings such as "Love," "Peace," or "Brotherhood" which they in turn gave to an underclassman.

The Seniors who worked so hard on "Project Positivism" hope it will become a yearly project for inspiring future student bodies and faculties "to think positively."

Harvey materializes.

A six-foot, or "is that six-foot, one and a half?" invisible white rabbit was the basis for Mary Chase's 3-Act comedy, Harvey, which was presented on November 20 and 21 by the Senior Class.

Patty Horn, costume committee chairman, and Colleen Morris, make-up chairman, assisted by Pam Casto, prepared the actors, such as Russ Funk (PIC. F) for the scenes performed in the Dowd living room, designed by Jeanne Wetz, and Chumley's Rest, designed by Dores Beckford. Construction of sets was managed by Mark Haskins and Suzie Johnson with Nancy Caskin heading the props committee. In PIC. E, Jeanne Wetz, Suzie Johnson, and Mark Haskins prepare a set for the Dowd library. Business arrangements were headed by Bob Denton, and sound effects were handled by Jim Gawthrop. "Mama" Cayton, director, instructed the actors on such things as curtain calls, including E. J. Lofgren (Linda Patterson), Betty Chumley (Patty O'Neal), Nurse Ruthie Kelly (Linda Stiles), Dr. Lyman Sanderson (Jeff Starnier), Dr. "Willie" Chumley (Craig Conrath), Veta Louise Simmons (Polly Wigton), Harvey, the invisible rabbit, Elwood P. Dowd (Jeff Buchert), Myrtle Mae Simmons (Cathy Smith), Judge Omar Gaffney (Russ Funk), Wilson (Fred Doak), Mrs. Ethel Chavenet (Maggie Ralston), and Miss Johnson (Nancy Engle), (PIC. I).

Elwood P. Dowd was a lovable lush whose best friend was an invisible rabbit named Harvey. (PIC. D). Veta Louise, Elwood's emotional sister, and Myrtle Mae, Veta's daughter, attempted to commit Elwood to Chumley's Rest, a sanitarium (PIC. H). At Chumley's Rest, Dr. Sanderson, Dr. Chumley, and Nurse Kelly (PIC. G) have Elwood committed after much confusion.

When the Simmons' family, friends, and the sanitarium employees met (PIC. C), they decided to give Elwood an injection that would cause him to see Harvey no more. However, at the last moment, Veta Louise stopped the injection, despite objections from Myrtle Mae (PIC. A). Elwood was saved from his awful fate and as he was leaving, Harvey (alias Rick Nuzum) materialized before the eyes of frustrated Dr. Chumley and Wilson (PIC. B).

Winter brings activities

There were many Christmas events in 1970. On December 19 the Senior Class had a party to celebrate the near arrival of jolly ole Saint Nick (Pic D). Held at the YMCA from 8:00 to 11:00 P.M., the gay festivities included swimming, movie watching, game playing and dancing to the sounds of "The Odyssey." The party was co-chaired by Peggy Prunty and Steve Unger.

On December 21 the Marietta Junior and Senior High Music Departments held their second annual "Festival of Carols" in the senior high auditorium where they performed traditional and modern carols. In (Pic C) Mr. Gibbs conducts the Senior Concert Choir in a chorus.

December 29 marked the date of the annual Y-Teens Christmas Dance, "Angels Paradise," held at the Betsy Mills Club from 9:00 to 12:00 P.M. Decorations were headed by Terry Archer and Kathy Hedderick, while Sue Anderson planned refreshments and Jane Stevens and Sally McGrew took care of programs. Music for the affair was supplied by the "Glory Road." While some people danced (Pic B), others such as John Smith, Dana Fleming, and Drew Cayton (Pic A) listened.

Something new this year for the Senior Midterm Dance was the masquerade to which couples came hoping to win a prize for their costumes. As those present danced to the sound of "Glory Road," prizes for the funniest were awarded to Dave Laing and Suzanne Johnson, who were dressed as were dressed as painters (Pic F), and prizes for the most original went to Scott Hovis and Beth Murray, who appeared as Raggedy Ann and Andy (Pic E). Other couples such as Gerard Modecki and Ann Abele went as Robin Hood and Maid Marian (Pic G), while Carol Thornily and Ed Pabst went as an Indian and a cowboy (Pic H). Mike Buell served as chairman for this event, aided by Walter McVeigh on decorations and Vicki Weddle on refreshments.

Students perform.

Attracting large crowds, talent shows of classes 1971 and 1972 were each labeled a success. The seniors, under the directorship of Mr. Tom Robinson (Pic. E), proved that hard work combined with fun and enthusiasm produces a great night of entertainment.

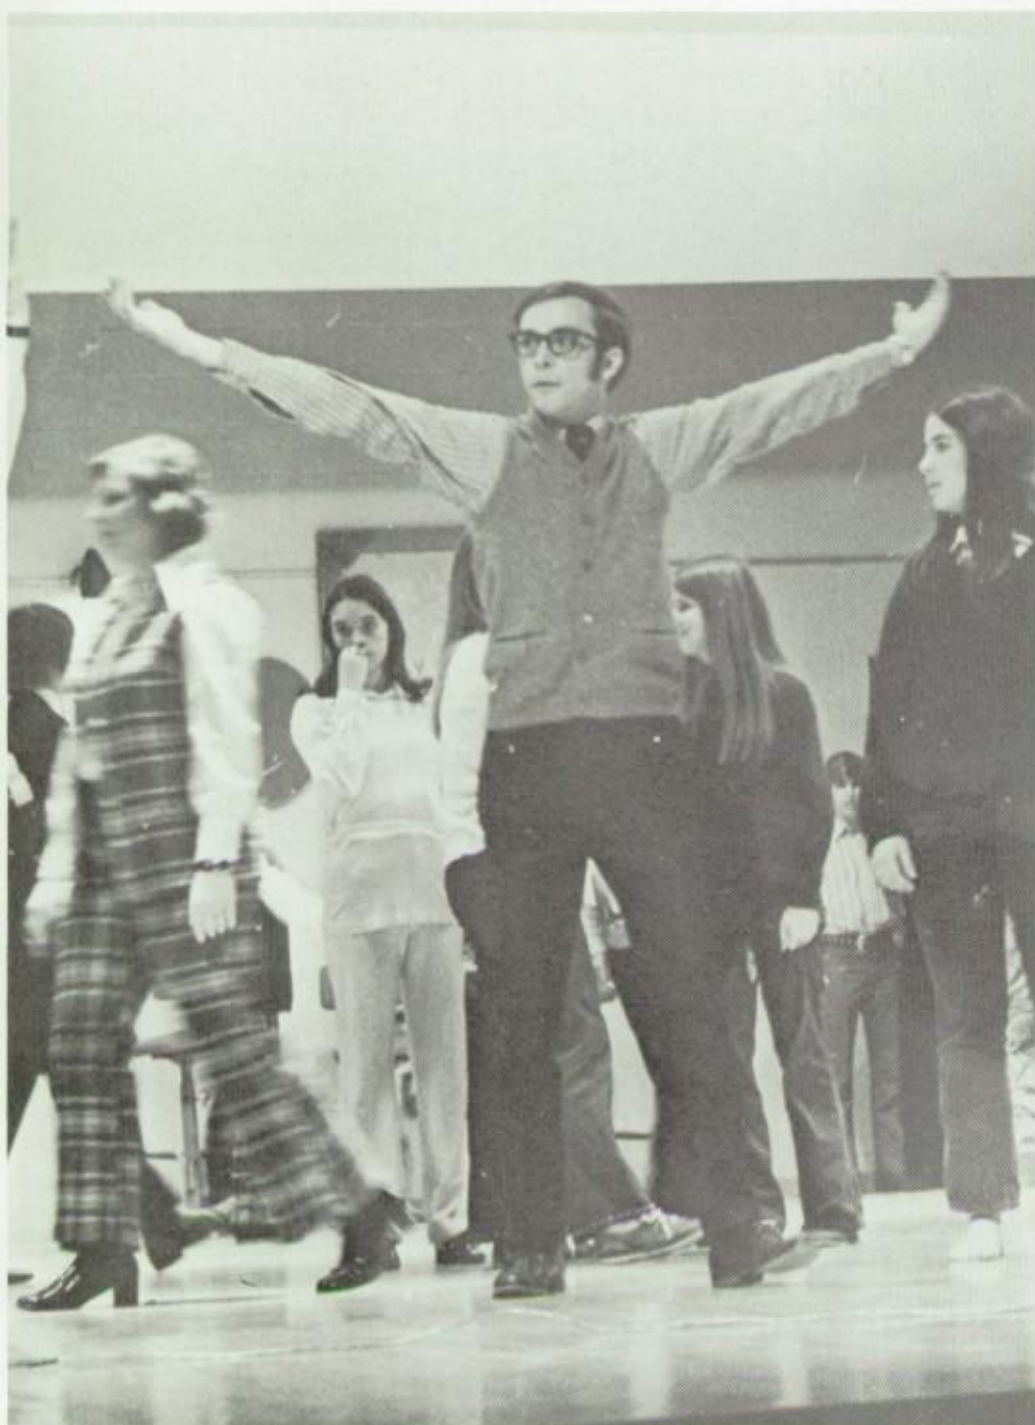

"The Tonight Show," compiled by members of the class of 1971, included acts ranging from the comedy of the "Indy 500" (Pic. A) to Jody Foster's graceful dance "Strangers in Paradise." (Pic. B) Other highlights of the evening included Ann and Sue Sheets singing "Promised Land" (Pic. D) and the sound of "Classical Gas," (Pic. C) performed by Cathy Smith. Chairmen of "The Tonight Show" were Jeanne Wetz and Russ Funk.

Employing a different format, the class of 1972 presented "A Night Backstage." The first half was highlighted by skits depicting a frenzied backstage rehearsal including numerous comedy acts, such as "I Can't Say No," featuring Lissa Fannin and Mike Hushion. (Pic. H) Also, Mary Mossburg performed "I Enjoy Being a Girl," (Pic. F) while Penny Riemenschneider, Joy Barnes, and the rest of the cast joined in on "Put on Your Sunday Clothes." (Pic. G) The atmosphere then changed to the formal entertainment of a variety show with more musical-comedy acts. "A Night Backstage" was chaired by Peggy Brunyate, Debbie Davis, and Drew Cayton.

As a result of their experiences, the classes of 1971 and 1972 earned much needed money as well as a growing sense of friendship and unified accomplishment.

February featured variety.

Under the direction of Grover Buxton and John Knox, the Variety Band Show featured the Marietta Senior High Band and included the Junior High Band and Ballet Work Shop. Highlights included a ballet to "An American in Paris," (pic A) a trumpet trio of Tom Stickrath, Bob Denton, and Larry Rogers, and such outstanding band numbers as "Peckhorn's Revenge" and "liturgical Music." In pic B, Barb Stewart does a scene from an American in Paris while the woodwind section performs behind her. The evening provided musical enjoyment for all who attended.

A new type of event this year was the Mardi Gras, a project sponsored by the Sophomore class. The entire student body was invited to participate in the activities which provided entertainment throughout the fourth floor. In pic C, Jane Springman and other students prepare to participate in one of the many fun activities available. Although many wished at the Wishing Well, (pic E), the wishes of Sandy Shallenberger and Chuck Swaney came true for sure when they were selected as the Mardi Gras king and queen (pic F). In pic D King Chuck and Queen Sandy dance to the sound of Axis while others look on. Mrs. Cain was class advisor for the event and co-chairmen were Caroline Tubert, Sheryl Smith, Donna Curtis, and Michi Hoag.

February features a variety in dancing, music, and activities as entertainment for everyone.

Show biz spotlights Annie.

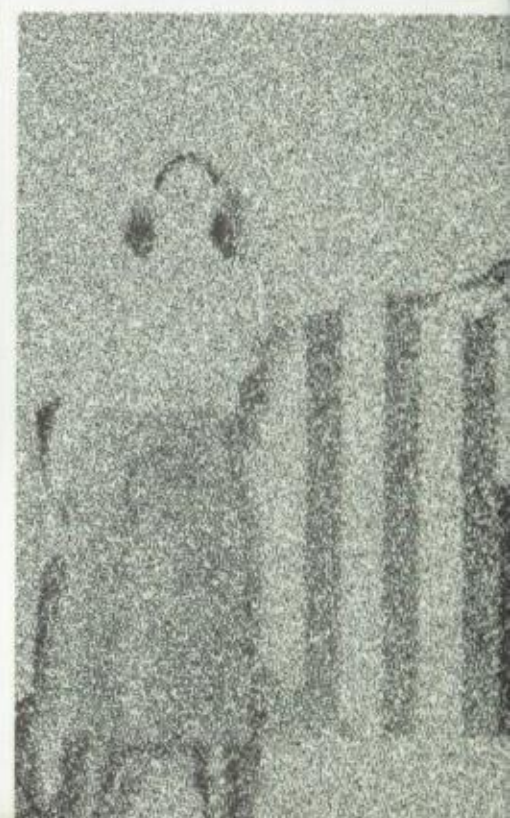

"There's no business like show business . . ." represented the feeling of the cast and crew of this year's all-school play, Annie Get Your Gun. Performed on March 5th, 6th, and 7th, it was directed by Mrs. Vivian Cayton. (PIC J) Mr. Tom Robinson (PIC E) served as musical director while Mrs. Ann Cogswell and Drew Cayton served as accompanists. Mr. Jack Gibbs was vocal director, and Felicia Buell (PIC F) handled the choreography. Mark Haskins acted as co-ordinator while Gerard Modecki (PIC A) handled the duties of stage manager. With assistance from Dianne Juhola, Nancy Caskins planned the sets. Prompting the actors were student director Suzie Johnson and assistants Kathy Schaefer and Peggy Brunyate. (PIC J) Sue Grasley handled all business and publicity, while Patty Horn and Cheryl Cargo obtained the western-styled costumes. Pam Casto was in charge of make-up; Braden Nida, sound-effects; and Jeanne Wetz, props.

Major singing roles were as follows: Nancy Engle, Annie Oakley (PIC I); Dave Schelat, Frank Butler (PIC B); Hank Knellinger, Charlie Davenport (PIC G); Linda Stiles, Dolly Tate. (PIC E) Other major non-singing roles consisted of Craig Conrath as Buffalo Bill (PIC G); Ed Barry as Pawnee Bill; Gifford Nolan as Chief Sitting Bull; (PIC G) Dave Davis as Wilson (PIC D); Lisa Fanin, Cathy Smith, (PIC H), Linda Patterson and Russ Cogswell (PIC I) as Annie's kid brother and sisters; and Mike Hushion as Mac. Acting in small but significant speaking roles were Beck Parlin, David Warren, Linda Atkins, Ruth Spencer, Kathy Robinson, Doug Huffman, and Jeff Starner.

In PIC D the cast rehearses a "tent" scene. After show bix experiences spotlighted "Annie" the cast and crew came to the decision that "there's not busines like show business!"

Stargate swings open.

Planned under the leadership of Nancy Engle, Karen Flannagan, and Ed Barry, the 1970 Junior-Senior Prom followed the theme "Future through the Stargate." In keeping with this theme all guests entered through a long black tunnel sparkling with hundreds of stars and received program "visas" (PIC. E) which permitted them to dance to the sounds of the "Soul Expedition" (PIC. D) amid streamers, colored lights, space murals, and a revolving mirrored ball (PIC. C). Responsible for these space decorations was a committee headed by Darcie Caltrider, Gerard Modecki, and Robin Forgeng. Committee members Cathy Rinesmith and Ed Barry helped with decorations (PIC. F).

Highlighting the evening was the crowning of Prom King and Queen, Jeff Stewart and Marilyn Curtis, (PIC. B) by 1969 King and Queen, Karl Kesselring and Nancy Neeley. Attendants to the new royalty were candidates (PIC. A) Nancy Webb, Sally Archer, Beth Murray, Cathy Rinesmith, Steve Wentis, Paul McKenzie, Don Baker, and Mike Beardmore.

Food drive is big success.

"Get together," the theme of the Student Council's first assembly exemplified their activities throughout the year. Student Body President, Don Baker, led the Council in sponsoring the Homecoming festivities, King of Hearts Dance, the Christmas float, and decorating the cafeteria at Christmas. Student services were the daily announcements and hat and coat check at the basketball games. Community services included a Thanksgiving canned food drive which totaled 2500 cans from all Marietta schools. In order to finance the club's activities, members sold pennants and windbreakers.

The Student Council was a part of the Area Council this year. Attempting to coordinate area councils' efforts and activities, it met every six weeks at member schools. Marietta boasted two officers, Gloria Grimm — president, and Don Baker — vice-president.

Members also attended various workshops throughout the year. During the summer, Don Baker, Craig Conrath, Donna Curtis, Sheryl Smith, and Alex Krivchenia traveled to Ohio Northern University. On November 21, eleven attended a workshop at Toledo and, on April 2 and 3, MSHS hosted an area workshop.

NHS celebrates 50th year.

One of the oldest organizations of MSHS is National Honor Society. Founded in 1921 as a national organization, MSHS was granted Charter No. 8.

Members were chosen in four planks: intellectual achievement, outstanding character, conspicuous leadership, and useful service. Juniors must have had a 3.25 cumulative average for tapping, while Seniors needed only a 3.00 cumulative average.

Major projects of NHS were the tutoring program, the sale of personal name cards for seniors, the college loan fund, the Linda Israel Memorial Fund, the college panels at Christmas time, and the bookstore, their service project.

Colleen Morris (PIC B) assists a customer with an order. Jennie McGraw pours punch at the reception for new inductees and their parents (PIC C).

Austria comes to MSHS.

The American Field Service sponsors a Marietta student's stay abroad and a foreign student's stay in Marietta each year. In honor of each of these students the A.F.S. Tree Garden contains a tree. To help raise money for an A.F.S. student's trip overseas, the annual A.F.S. assembly concludes with an appeal for donations. In order to plan the assembly and other activities, there were regular A.F.S. meetings, featuring such speakers as Doris Beckord, A.F.S. student from Austria, and Mike Buell, Marietta's delegate to Sweden last summer. Besides meetings and projects advised by Mrs. Engle, A.F.S. members enjoyed special events such as the Christmas party held at the home of Cheryl Crago, next year's A.F.S. student from Marietta. At the party (Pic D), Marcia Klaiber, Cheryl Crago, Mark Klaiber, and Doris Beckord race to assemble puzzles. In (Pic A), Doris Beckord and Cheryl Crago seek their fortunes on the Ouija board. Standing in front of the Tree Garden are A.F.S. members (Pic C), sitting, Tonja Eichmiller, Ann Lawrence, Jane Stephens, Debbie Lenhart, Ann Abele, Ann Simpson, and standing, Gifford Nolan, Dave Stewart, Jim Gawthrop, Mark Klaiber, Craig Williams, Patty Miller, Stewart Kelso, Kevin Smith, Craig Conrath, Diana Dunn, Elain Naesar, Margaret Ralston, Darcy Caltrider, Patty O'Neill, Jim Mankins, Kathy Rinesmith, Barb Thornily, Cheryl Crago, Marcia Klaiber, Linda Byron, Doris Beckord, Ann Stewart, Jeff Starnier, Mike Buell, Dan Strecker, Martha Wetherholt, Barb Morrison, Colleen Morris, Bob Denton, Fred Doak, Jessica Wood, and Liane Johnson.

Mike Buell (Pic B) spent last summer in Stavem, Norway, representing the Marietta A.F.S. Chapter. His Norwegian family consisted of Mr. and Mrs. Moen, and two brothers, Borre, (16), and Morten (19). Since Mr. Moen owned a lumberyard, Mike spent most of his time working there. In his free evenings he went to Piraten, a local pub. Mike also had a chance to visit Oslo, Norway, and go mackerel fishing. During his traveling Mike saw six European countries, including Scandinavia.

In July of '70 Doris Beckord (Pic E) received her first correspondence from the Wetz family of Marietta. That letter confirmed Doris' trip to the State as an A.F.S. exchange student. A native of Salzburg, Austria, Doris lived with her parents, her brother Elmar (16), and sister Beatrix (14).

Before coming to America, Doris took five years of English at an all-girls' high school. Doris found American high schools basically the same as Austrian schools, except for the fact that Austrian schools have a more complete and far-reaching course in home economics.

To receive a smattering of American culture, Doris' classes include English 11X and American History. Most of Doris' impressions of us came through the normal routine of school and her participation in senior class activities.

Returning to Austria, Doris planned to attend college and make use of her experiences in America.

The goal of a Future Nurse was to earn her cap by completing at least twelve hours of service as a Candy Stripper. As a Candy Stripper, girls did many jobs to help the nurses and to make the patients happier. Connie Temple, and Marcia Klaiber read a get-well card to a patient (Pic E) Patty Young had a bright moment as Connie Temple played cards to help pass the time (Pic C). Ellen Davis helped in the club's project of making Christmas favors for the area hospitals (pic B). The club also took two trips to different institutions. In November members visited Ohio State University School of Nursing in Columbus, Ohio, and in the spring toured Timken Mercy Hospital School of Nursing in Canton.

Fifteen new members were inducted into Quill and Scroll, international honorary society for high school journalists. In addition to recommendation by their advisor, nominees must have been juniors or seniors, ranked in the upper third of their class, and have done superior work in some phase of journalism or school publications work.

Carl Clovis (Pic B), manager of WBRJ radio station, presented the program, "Radio — Yesterday and Tomorrow."

Participating in the induction ceremonies were (Pic C) Anne Voisinot, George Wheeler, Keral Wagner, Mark Sheppard, Larry Rogers, Linda Patterson, Liane Johnson, Marcia Klaiber, Jane Hannan, Sue Grasely, Terry French, Craig Conrath, Drew Cayton, Ann Abele, Sue Shallenburger, Patty Miller, Jan Johnson and Colleen Morris. Not present were Linda Atkins, Ann Simpson, Nancy Caskins, and Kathy Shafer. Mrs. Burton was advisor.

Initiation of new members was the main activity of Spanish National Honor Society. The members were chosen because of their ability in Spanish, as well as in other subjects. Featuring the initiation, the December meeting was also the organization of a Christmas party during which the members sang Christmas carols in Spanish and made several attempts to break the pinata.

Membership included (Pic D) Cindy Zoerkler, Keral Wagner, Nancy Cottrill, Cathy Smith, Suzanne Johnson, Pam Howe, Sheryl Smith, Patty Horn, Jessica Wood, Carol Buchman, George Wheeler, Jenny McGraw, Mark Sheppard, Debbie Lenhart, Larry Rodgers, Peggy O'Connell, Dwight Mills, Jill Leonhart, Wayne Roberts, and Ted Strickland. Absent were Kathy Schafer, Linda Patterson, Jane Hannan, Marc Theisen, Steve Howe, Frank Rice, Sandi White, Dave Amrine, and Rosanne Miller.

With several championships behind them, five senior boys and Mr. Zoller strived to produce another winning MSHS Scholarship Team on WTAP TV. Chosen the first of October, the team had until the last of February to prepare for their first match. In addition to the customary question-and-answer period, the team held intramurals with other students to build up speed and alertness.

Debating an answer, several juniors challenge the scholarship team: (Pic A) counterclockwise, Marcia Klaiber, Larry Rogers, Drew Cayton, Mark Sheppard, John Smith, Russ Funk, Fred Doak, and Dwight Mills.

Photography club develops.

With Mrs. Cayton as advisor, the Thespians undertook the Christmas and Easter assemblies. However, two big projects for the year were sponsoring the senior class play, Harvey, and the all-school play, "Annie, Get Your Gun". Membership in Thespians requires active participation in these Thespian-sponsored productions, including work in two different areas of theater production, participation in two different productions, and an accumulation of 100 hours in production work. Those students meeting these requirements become members of Thespians at the Initiation Banquet in the spring.

FBLA & COE aid merchants.

At a get acquainted cook-out in the fall, Future Business Leaders of America began an active year which was highlighted by the distribution of Tom-Watt Kits in October, the sale of mums at Homecoming (Pic B), and a service project of addressing Christmas cards for the elderly.

To gain better knowledge of the business world, members had a chance to attend one local and one state convention. On November 14, twenty-five members attended the District Convention in Marietta, and in February students who had attained enough service points made the trip to Dayton for the State Convention.

Beginning the year with an Employer-Employee Open House, the Cooperative Office Education club started an active year. Much of the year was spent preparing for the District Convention, October 17, and the State Convention, March 6 and 7. In between, COE sold Tom-Watt products for a money-making project.

The membership of twenty-three was advised by Mrs. Colleen Burns. The club consisted of (Pic C) front Row, Sally Fox, Diane Berg; second Row, Cathy Kelly, Debbie Fox, Debbie Brown, Lois Scott, Sharon Sparks, Rose Harris, Rhonda Herron, Carolyn Bell, Pam Casto; third Row, Janet Reichart, Mrs. Colleen Burns, Becky Knellinger, Cris Webb, Eva Wittekind, Susan Neader, Linda Thompson, Peggy Prunty, Pat Pugh, Deanna Eddy, Nancy Lones, Patty Kinney; not pictured, Barb Biehl.

V.I.C.A. and D.E.C.A. acquire work experience.

"I believe in the dignity of work, the American way of life, in education, fair play and high moral and spiritual values." This is the motto of the Vocational Industrial Club of America, advised by Gene Neely. Meeting weekly, the 107 members of the club strive to achieve high standards of workmanship, leadership, citizenship, and encourage in themselves an appreciation of proper social and industrial pursuits. The club's annual activity was the Vocational Banquet, held in May. Members were (Pic B). Peggy A. Kaneff, Cindy Null, Peggy Close, Corlis Carpenter, Barbara McElfresh, Sherly Farley, Robert Grasley, Adrian Dalton, Larry Hopkins, Richard Dennis, Roger Allberry, David Arnold, Albert Moody, Vicki Hughes, Susan Hasley, Edward Olff, Edward Pabst, Beverly Martin, Tom Cannon, Ridge Flanders, Bill Etter, Nancy Dimit, Billie Whittekind, Vera Whipkey, Kathy Van Wey, Rosemary Vannoy, Ross Thomas, James Streight, Roy Barnes, Gary Blume, Robert Church, John Cline, Dave Decker, David Farley, Jon Castin, Mike Dye, James Wark, Debbie Myers, Charlie Tullius, Peggy Zoller, Daryl Wolfe, Gary Seevers, Chuck Schultheisz, Becky Schafer, John McGee, Sandra Stephens, Janet Friend, Sandra McIntire, John Parsons, Charlene Baker, David Waterman, Bernard Hurst, Regina Lightfritz, Dean Jett, Violet Quick, Larry Huffman, Jim Flower, Joyce McMahon, John Brown, Danny Keerps, Denver Abicht, Troy

Members plan for future.

After the initial organizational meeting, members of Future Teachers of America took a pledge outlining their goals for the teaching profession. Programs for the year followed these goals by providing speakers on various levels of teaching.

As in other years, members with free time assisted teachers with typing and similar tasks. In (Pic B) Nancy Engle aids Mr. Heibel by stapling tests together.

In March interested members spent a day at any area school of their choice. There they observed and got a different view of the teaching profession.

Two new projects this year were the Christmas candle and stationery sales.

Though membership was very small, this year's Future Homemakers of America was an active club. In addition to having a candy sale and a bread sale, members attended a subregional meeting in September and a state meeting in Columbus in April.

For those students studying vocational agriculture, Future Farmers of America was designed to develop leadership, character, thrift, scholarship, cooperation, citizenship, and patriotism. As in past years, FFA sponsored a parliamentary procedure team.

Fourth and Fifth periods were set aside each day for the Girl's Athletic Association, with Miss Bickford (Pic C) as advisor. After electing officers and choosing activities, they divided into teams which competed in intramural activities such as kick ball (Pic E) left to right, Ann Wesel, Cecilia Weber, Ann Lawrence. Besides activities during school, GAA members bowled and held playdays once every two months. These playdays included a Mother-Daughter Playday and an Alumni Playday. In the Mother-Daughter Playday, mothers got carried away with scooter relays (Pic B) left to right, Colleen Morris, Marcia Klaiber, Mrs. Biehl, Kathy Biehl. At the Alumni Playday graduates demonstrated that they had not lost their cageball skills (Pic D) left to right, Kris Klaiber, Connie Becker, Donna Curtis, Marcia Klaiber, Martha Wright, Bonnie Atkins.

Service to the community was the goal of Junior-Senior Y-Teens and the Sophomore Y-Teen club. In their bimonthly meetings, Peggy Prunty and Cindy Strahler (Pic B) helped coordinate the two clubs' work on the Heart Fund Drive, the Easter Lily drive for crippled children, and the dance for the Brenda Sandy fund. At Christmas, the various members sold holly and used the profits to sponsor the annual Christmas dance. (Pic E) The emblem for Y-Teens is (Pic A).

This group of eighty met daily in preparation for Christmas and spring concerts, a pre-Christmas performance on WTAP TV, and state competition. Using profits from the Christmas concert and a jewelry sale, the chorus members planned a trip to Cleveland. Besides Concert Choir, interested students also had the opportunity to try out for other performing groups specially selected by Mr. Jack Gibbs, choir director. One of these groups, the twenty member Madrigal Singers (Pic B) Linda Stiles, Rosanne Miller, Jenny McGraw, Connie Miller, Karen Hill, Mark Klaiber, David Schelat, Terry McNabb, Jeff Shaw, and Mr. Gibbs, performed for various clubs and organizations.

Not present were Jessica Wood, Jeff Buchert, Polly Wigton, Donna McGraw, Marcella McKenzie, Dave Warren, Terry Pringle, Jeff Stewart, Brian McKenzie, Julie Jobes, and Richard Ansley. The Madrigal Singers worked in all stylistic divisions of music, climaxed by the difficult Mozart Mass. Another of these groups was the 16-member Girl's Ensemble which featured only specially-chosen ladies voices. Also part of the music department was the String Quartet, directed by Mr. Cylburn Yoho, which included (Pic D) Amy Hill, Jeff Buchert, Cheryl Crago, and Margaret Ralston.

Military style abounds.

The majorettes (Pic G) front row, Becky Theis, Carol Corlett, Suzanne Johnson; back row, Connie Temple, Nancy Engle, and Linda Atkins added variety to the Marietta High School Marching Band's football half-time shows with their routines such as the sword dance to the music of the Cossacks by Linda Atkins and Connie Temple (Pic B). During one half-time show Field Captain Mark Klaiber (Pic F) led the band in one of the hardest field maneuvers performed, a script "M" (Pic D). The uniform step that the band used (Pic E) was a product of band camp where members marched with closed eyes through strings five inches off the ground and 22-1/2 inches apart, as demonstrated by Mr. Knox at band camp (Pic A).

Mr. Grover Buxton and Mr. John Knox congratulate the following members for their dedication to this years marching band (Pic C): Linda Atkins, Craig Conrath, Carol Corlett, Chob Davis, Mike Davis, Robert Denton, Fred Doak, Tonja Eichmiller, Nancy Engle, Dana Fleming, Rustin Funk, Sandra Grose, Darla Jo Henry, Glenn Holley, Kim Huston, Suzie Johnson, Dave Laing, Ken Morgan, Jeff Shaw, John Smith, Dan Strecker, Connie Temple, Steve Unger, Keral Wagner, David Warren, Polly Wigton, Virginia Boley, Tom Brum, Drew Cayton, David Davis, Michele Dyar, Penny Efaw, Donna Fulton, Mark Funk, Karla Holland, Suzanne Johnson, Diane Juhola, Melody Kurtz, Donald Lane, Terry McNabb, Mary Jo Morris, Virginia Morris, Cathy Nicholson, Gifford Nolan, Kathi Robinson, Larry Rogers, Dave Shepherd, Diana Smith, Steve Smith, Cindy Steed, Tom Stickrath, Becky Theis, Vicki Via, Mark Wharton, George Wheeler, Jeanette Wirick, Andrew Young, Robert Abrahamsen, Richard Ansley, Richard Beihl, Christine Boley, Rebecca Brown, Donna Busch, Jeff Clayton, Donna Curtis, Joyce Dye, Michael Gifford, Connie Glaze, Susan Hamilton, Mark Klaiber, Kristen LaBarre, Carol Lane, Rocky Lenhart, Steve McCarthy, Kathy McVeigh, Susan Metcalf, Russell Miller, Diana Phelps, Frank Rice, Jeryl Shears, Susan Sheep, Joe Shepherd, Susan Smith, David Stacy, Ronald Swanson, Monice Wilson, and Brian Worstell.

Original has 60th year.

The Original, publishing for its 60th year, changed its format again this year. Using tabloidsize, it was printed by offset (photo-composition) on newsprint by The Times Co. Several editions were eight pages instead of the traditional four and the October edition featured a duo-tone picture on the front page. The editors adopted down style headlines and other modern make-up. They stressed in-depth features, with accompanying editorials. Heading the Original staff was junior Drew Cayton (Pic C). Other staff members were (Pic A) clockwise from far left, Keral Wagner, Mark Sheppard, Randy Hays, Craig Conrath, Patty O'Neil, Ann Abele, Becky Meister, Terry French, Linda Bergen, and Joy Gatten. Reporters not present were Cheryl Crago, Susan Christy, Sue Grasley, Micki Hoag, Jenny Joyce, and Matt Moynihan.

Tiger Times, the bi-weekly page of high school news and features in the Marietta Daily Times, was edited by senior Colleen Morris (Pic C). Stories, headlines, page lay-out and pasting-up were all student work. Emphasis was on features and covering junior and senior high activities for parents and citizens. The staff members who put out the Original also worked on this publication. Mrs. Jane Burton advised both publications (Pic D). Photographers for both papers were Larry Rogers, Terry French, and George Wheeler (Pic B).

Seventy 1 ORIAN changes size.

No year is complete without the annual publication of the Marietta Senior High School ORIAN. With the addition of a new section, Academics, this yearbook is the best published in years at M.S.H.S. The quality of the ORIAN depends largely on the coordination of its different sections. (Pix C) Directly under the sliding board is Jane Hannan, Copy, proceeding counterclockwise is Sue Grasley, Seniors; Linda Atkins, Business Manager; Marcia Klaiber, Organizations; Liane Johnson, Underclassmen; Pam Long, Underclassmen; Starley Eaton, Academics; Barb Hoffart, Faculty; Ann Simpson, Organizations; Nancy Caskin, Academics; Shelley Holdren, Business; Jeff Buchert, Seniors; Mike Buell, Sports; Jeff Starnner, Sports; and Diane Juhola, Faculty. Not present were Linda Patterson, Activities; Marilyn Curtis, Activities; and Patty Hackathorn, Index. As Business Manager, Linda Atkins handled the financial matters, with Shelley Holdren and (Pix A) Peggy Beihl, Cindy Strahler, Gerard Modecki, Diane Isner, Diana Kendle, Connie Temple, and Dana Fleming. Responsible for the pictures in this year's book were Glenn Holley, Jane Stephens, and Bill Martin (Pix D), and not pictured, Steve Smith. Whether deadlines were made or missed depended on how well they did their jobs.

Kathy Schafer, (Pix B) editor, spent many hours working with the different sections trying to decide what picture or headline was best. She also kept the whole staff swinging rapidly toward that last important deadline.

To keep the staff from teetering, Miss Kay Hill (Pix E) maintained a level head in crises. In her first year, which is the toughest for any advisor, she encountered many strange and awesome tasks, such as photographic failures and "hand-to-hand" combat with Washington's grade school children. Under her fine leadership, the ORIAN will remain as up-to-date and original as it is this year.

Horn paces x-country.

The Marietta 1970 cross country team proved to be one of the best in the last several years. The varsity compiled a commendable record of forty-eight wins and only eighteen defeats as indicated in picture A. The team proved unbeatable in dual meets, and placed second in the Marietta Invitational Meet. Picture D shows the start of that race.

After a heartbreaking first game defeat at the hands of Athens, the tough 1970 Bengals roared back for three straight shutout victories before a scoreless tie against Springfield Catholic and a loss to Newark. The season clung in the balance as several players were suspended for training rule violations. Unphased by the suspensions, the Tigers came back to upend Chillicothe and Zanesville in Central Ohio League action. Two of three league losses were to Upper Arlington and Lancaster, which were ranked second and fifth respectively in the state AAA football ratings.

Doug Huffman and Brett Ballard lead the Tigers onto the field in Pic. B. Halfback Mark Burke, in Pic. C., bobbles the ball as he sweeps left end for some valuable yardage against Bellaire. Co-captain Rick Nuzum gets off a good punt despite a heavy rush by Bellaire in Pic. D. In Pic. E the scoreboard speaks for itself.

Tennis team initiated.

The newest addition to Marietta's athletic department is the tennis team coached by first-year teacher Mr. Barua. Practice began in early November in preparation for the long season ahead. In tennis Pic. A "Lefty" Jim Mankins delivers a backhand shot. Mark and Alex Krivchenia prepare for the serve in Pic. B. Barb Hoffart sends the ball back across the net in Pic. C.

Swimmers improve greatly.

Although only in its second season, the 1970-71 swim team showed remarkable improvement. Many boys participated despite a regular session of early morning or late evening practices. The team was led by senior co-captain Rich Ross and Dave Lane. However, much of the team's strength came from its strong field of sophomores. Two sophomores who turned in record breaking performances were Larry Kress and Dave Stewart. Coach Thomas Feaster (Pic A) congratulates Andy Perry after a victorious race. Swimmers John Powell and Rich Shimp (Pic C) await the start of a race. Fred Wood (Pic D) closely eyes the competition before a race. In (Pic E) a swimmer illustrates his breathing technique, one key to speed in the water. John Powell (Pic F) is shown at the sound of the gun.

Matmen have tough season.

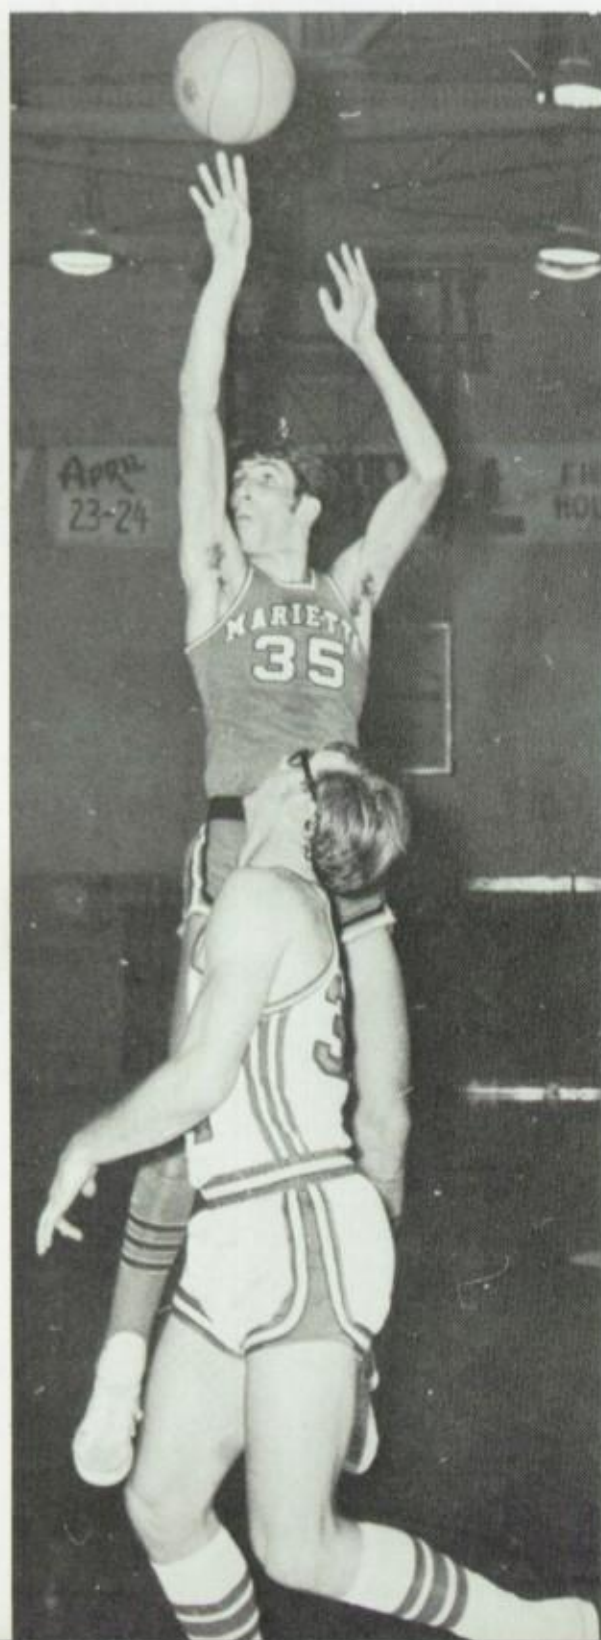

Every wrestling season is tough whether it is a winning or a losing one. But this season was especially tough for Marietta High's wrestlers. Sickness and minor injuries kept the team below potential during part of the season. Co-captain Dan Cogswell suffered a badly broken leg and was lost for a large part of the year. Russ Cogswell (Pic A) tries to score a takedown. Co-captain Doug Huffman (Pic B) uses a little facial expression as he goes after his opponent. The weight machine (Pic C) helps not only the wrestlers but all the Tiger teams. Milt Weppler (Pic D) dejectedly leaves the mat after dropping his match. Walter McVeigh (Pic E) seems to have more luck as he puts a near fall on his opponent. The 1970-71 wrestling team (Pic F) includes, front row, left to right, Kim Huston, Richard Ansley, Russ Cogswell, Keith Lewis, and Ron Hoffart. second row, Walter McVeigh, Don Springman, Milt Weppler, Conrad Cain, Doug Bagwell, Chuck Roush, and Kenny Katzenburger. third row, assistant coach Olof O'Dell, Herbert Grasley, Tom Brum, Don Huling, Doug Huffman, Tom Anderson, Frank Katzenburger, and coach Tom Beuglas. Richard Ansley (Pic G) scores a predicament on his Parkersburg foe although dropping the match 16-13.

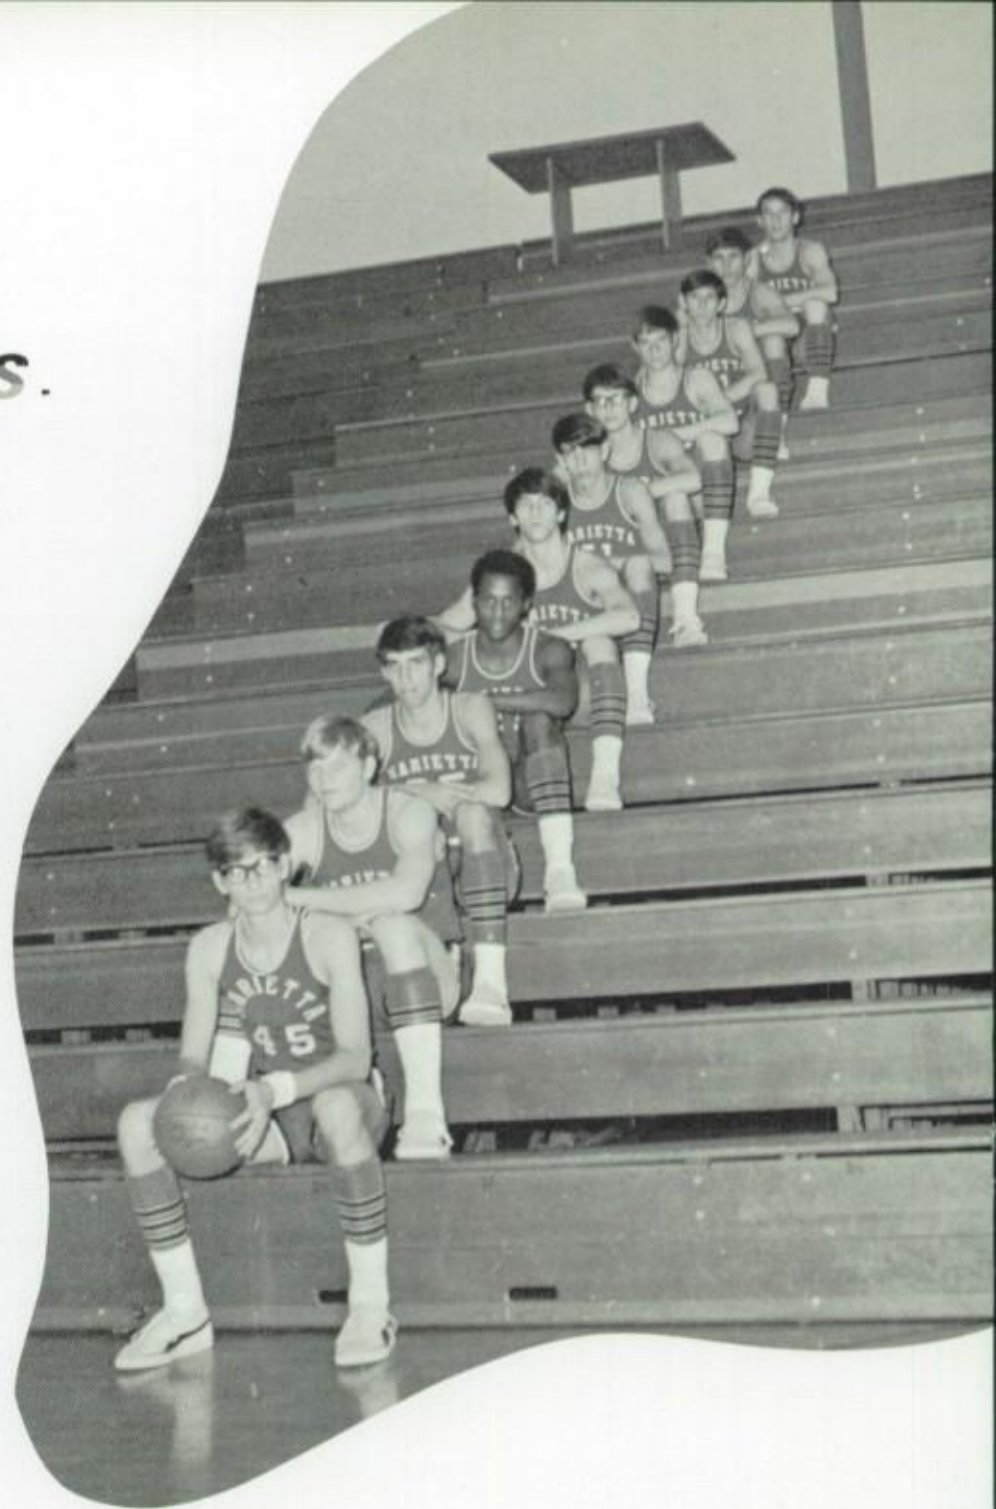

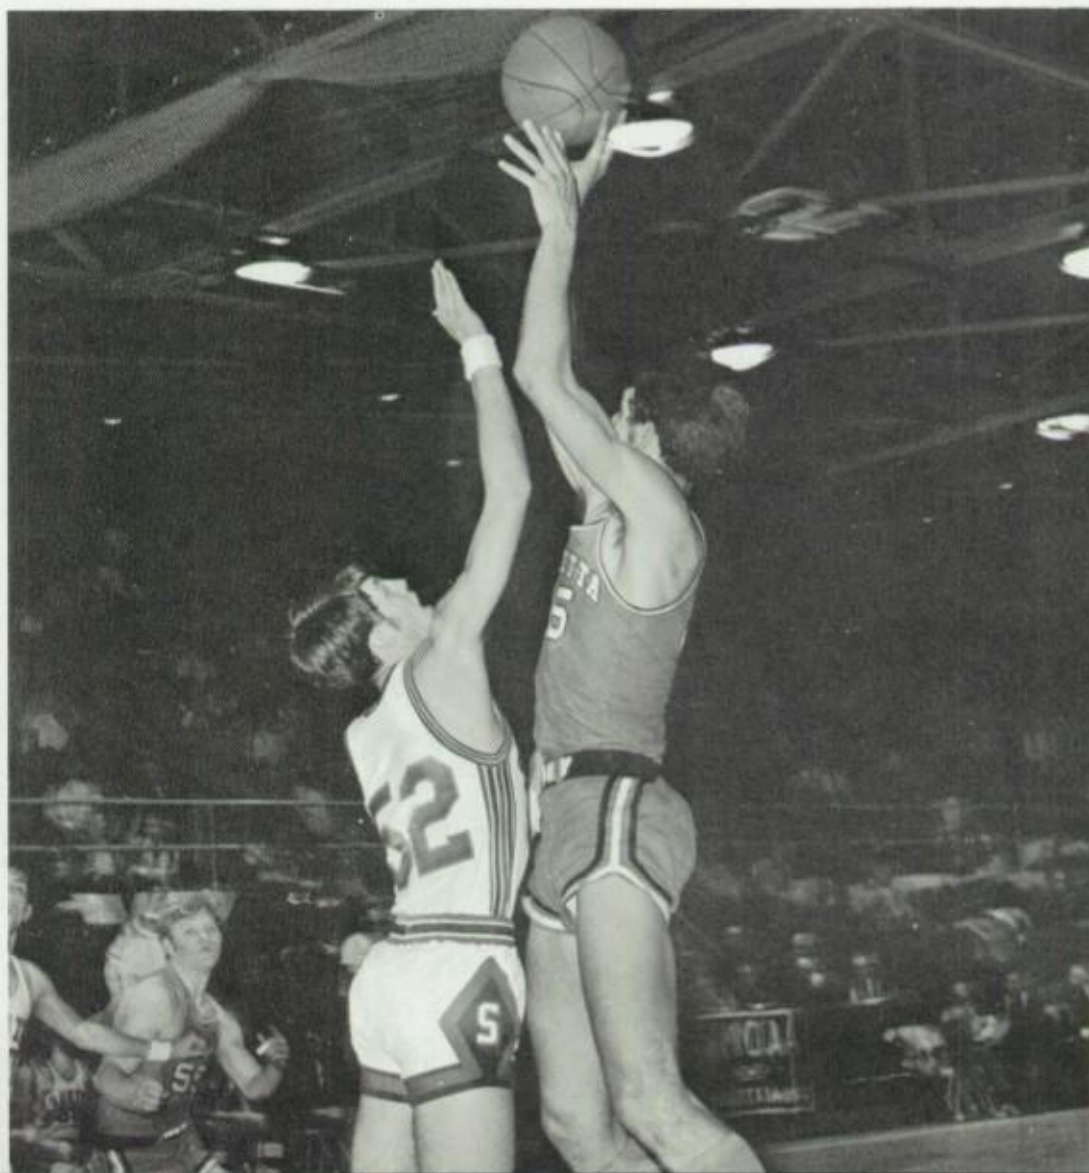

Gill steers roundballers.

After a lagging start, the Tigers battled their way to a record season under the leadership of first-year mentor Charlie Gill. The Tigers dropped their first five games before finally finding the winning ways. Composing the team, bottom to top, were Bob Pishko, Rick Nuzum, Kevin Smith, Mark Burke, Mark Harris, Happy Stewart, Dave Amrine, Bill Bonar, Joe Matheny, Chuck Rest, and Mike Beardmore. Absent was Mark Thiesen. Senior Kevin Smith (Pics A and B) was the leading point maker for the Tigers. Bob Pishko is shown (Pic C) going up for the opening tipoff. Mike Beardmore is obviously fouled (Pic D). Against tough defense Bob Pishko (Pic E) puts up a shot. Rick Nuzum goes for a rebound (Pic F).

Tigers fight tough C.O.L.

The highlight of the season proved to be a triple overtime upset victory of ninth ranked Zanesville. Over half of the Bengals games were decided within 10 points and several games were decided in overtime. Senior Rick Nuzum (Pic B) puts in a shot just over the hand of a leaping defender. All players seem intent upon the ball (Pic C) as it hangs on the rim. Kevin Smith (Pic E) goes high for two points. The team (Pic D) receives instructions at the quarter mark. After a tough workout, a hot shower feels good. (Pic F).

Track isn't easy.

Being on the track team wasn't the easiest extracurricular activity in the world, but the guys on the '69-'70 team didn't complain. Every night for at least three months they panted faithfully around the track and struggled gallantly lifting weights while preparing for upcoming meets. Those who proved best prepared were Bill Horn, Mark Burke, Ben Cogswell, and Larry Voisin (Pic D). These four represented MSHS in the regional track meet, during which Ben set a new pole vault record of 14'1" (Pic G). Mark excelled in hurdles (Pic C) and Bill and Larry were outstanding as runners. Setting a new school shot-put record of 50' was senior Doak Markley. The all-out physical effort exhibited by these boys is evident on the face of Curt Cain (Pic F) as he breaks the finishing tape. Other members of the team who participated in the Marietta night relays were (Pic B) Don Lane, Lanny Lancaster, John Gebczyk, Jack Lane, Milt Weppler, Doak Markley, Ben Cogswell, Mike Lowe, Jeff Smithberger, Joe Cowdery, Curt Cain, Barry Williamson, and Larry Voisin.

Hustle makes a good team.

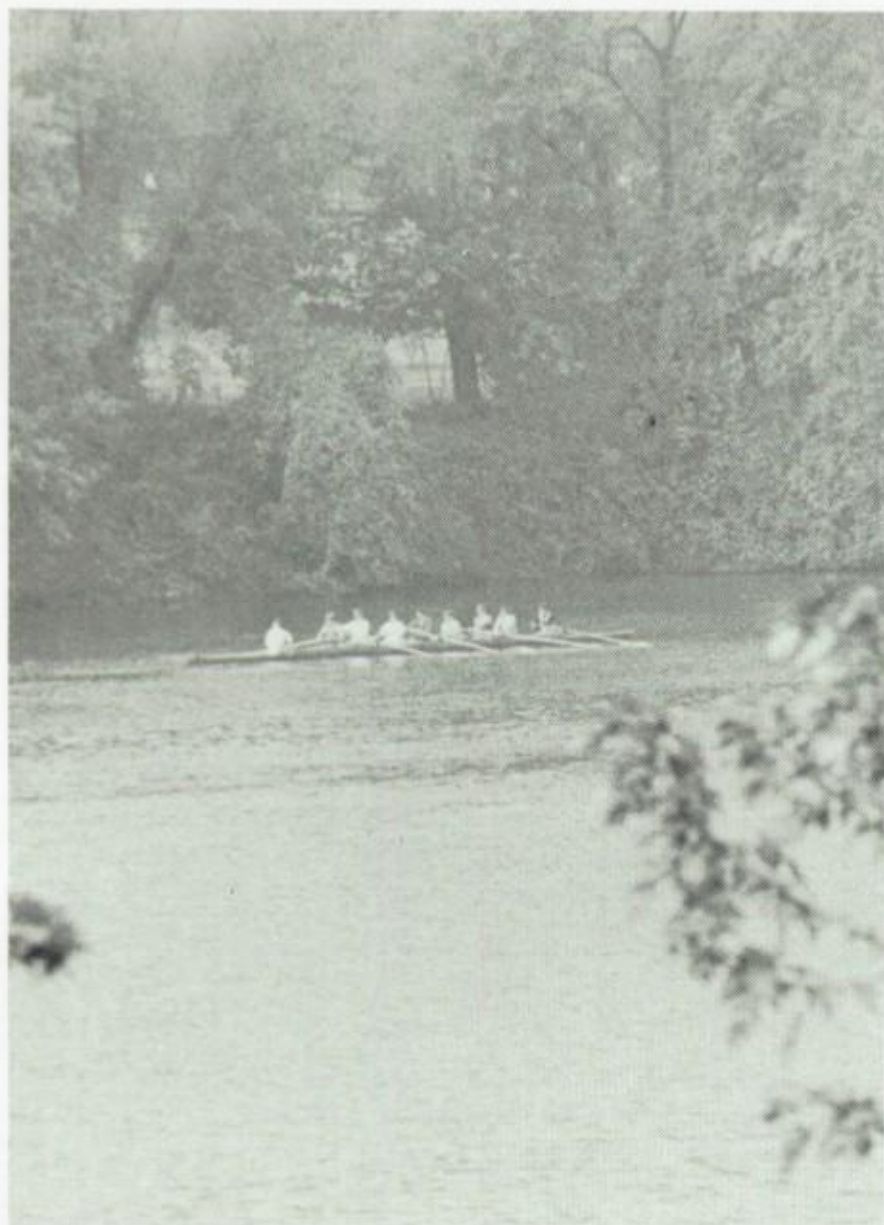

In every successful team formula there is an element called hustle. Without hustle a team is as flat as a balloon without air. Hustle is the spark that ignites a team to the fires of championship competition. Fortunately, the fire has long burned in the den of the Marietta Tigers' baseball team. This year's team (Pic A) includes, front row, left to right: Mark Haskins, Lee Riley, Roger Bonnette, Mike Beardmore, Dwight Mills, Bruce Heiner, Robbie Robinson, and Fred Doak. second row; Randy Britton, Mike Wagner, Charles Rest, Doyle Chancellor, Rodney Burke, Hap Stewart, Robert King, and Fred Morgan. The pain of impact is shown on Roger Bonnette's face (Pic B) as he scores the hard way. Mike Beardmore (Pic C) looks a little more at ease as he demonstrates the form that made him one of the Tigers' all time best pitchers. Catcher Mark Haskins (Pic D) makes sure this Portsmouth player does not score. First baseman Robbie Robinson (Pic E) attempts to put the tag on a baserunner. Mark Haskins (Pic F) slides home amid a cloud of dust as he beats the throw by what may be a painful margin. Dwight Mills (Pic G) plants both feet firmly on the plate to make absolutely sure of the score. The Tigers' 1970-71 schedule (Pic H) rises from the page as Robbie Robinson slides high scores across the plate.

Spring rallies sports.

Characterized by hard work, an excellent sense of timing, and strong arms, the crew team stroked its way to a winning season. In fact, they were the best crew team in Ohio and ranked eighth in the nation. This year's hard-working team included (Pic A) Mark Bruce, Bruce Haas, Chris Abbot, Ken Schoolcraft, Pete Molvie, Terry McNabb, Norman Lindamood, Grady Smith, Thomas Feaster, Greg Krivchenia, Mark Sheppard, Richard Stribling, Mike Ash, Keith Morris, and George Wheeler.

Of all the swingers around, the golf team members put their ability to the best use. Last year's golf team included (Pic G) Alan Poling, Ed Kimmich, Bill Bonar, Ken Trevene, Bob Pishko, Mark Smith, Jeff Adams, Steve Wentis, Charles Morrison, Homer Dunn, Gary Beebe, Ken Terry, and Drew Chorpeneing. Outstanding swingers were (Pic E) Bob Pishko and Steve Wentis.

What is a coach?

What is a coach? Is he a bundle of nerves that paces the sidelines? Is he a fist which pounds the bleachers? Is he an anguished face on the bench or the biggest smile in the newspaper photo? No. A coach can be many different people to a young athlete: a teacher, a leader, a friend. A coach is also the screen on which the emotions of the entire team are mirrored. His face changes shape and expression with every move or play of his team. A prime example is Ed Paxton (Pic A), the reserve basketball coach. Mike Popp (Pic B), assistant coach in baseball as well as football, goes over some football plays with team members. James Jordan (Pic C) emerges from the elevator on his way to varsity baseball practice. Assistant football and track coach Roger Pape (Pic D) is caught by the photographer while teaching physical education. Head football coach William Bonar (Pic E) nervously paces the sidelines as does Robert Annasenz (Pic F), head track and cross-country coach. First year basketball coach Charles Gill (Pic G) talks to his players before sending them onto the court. Athletic department head Scotty Hamilton (Pic H) watches a Tiger team in action. Tennis coach Bijan Barua (Pic I) demonstrates the proper grip to his team members.

Spirit steers Tigers.

Rounding out the coaching staff were Jerry Jones (Pic J), head golf coach and assistant football coach; Thomas Feaster (Pic K), swimming and crew coach; Robert Becker and Buck Forshey (Pic L), assistant football coaches; Olaf O'Dell (Pic M), assistant wrestling coach; and Thomas Beuglas (Pic N), wrestling coach. These men, because of their patience and expert guidance, were responsible for many Tiger victories.

Also urging the Bengals on to victory were the varsity cheerleaders (Pic A) Cathy Rinesmith, Mary Ann Shamel, Darcie Caltrider, Joy Barnes, Nancy Webb, and Kathy Smithberger. Aiding these bouncy cheerers was Sara Archer (Pic B), The "Tabby" mascot, who excelled in tail-wagging and impromptu dancing. Each of these girls spent many long hours instilling spirit and pride in the Tiger fans.

Stand up and holler!

To achieve the glory and popularity that accompanied being a cheerleader, a girl had to totally commit herself to the cause. She put in many long hours of practice and occasionally spent the early morning hours secretly decorating the players homes. The cheerleaders were ever faithful and set fine examples of good sportsmanship as they lead the Tiger rooters.

Leading the junior varsity teams were the reserve cheerleaders (Pic E) Paula Karcher, Julie Barry, Pam Whetsell, Mary Ann Nida, and Ellen Stacy.

These girls, besides instilling others with spirit, helped to raise money to finance their activities by operating a "Dilly Dunker" (Pic G) at the Washington County Fair.

Happiness is graduating with a pocketful of memories and the class of nineteen hundred and seventy-one. As the graduating seniors bid farewell to Marietta Senior High School, they take with them memories of picnics and proms, term papers and book reports, bake sales and car washes, successes and failures. These unforgettable memories will continue to be a source of happiness as the class of seventy-one assumes its place in the world outside of school buildings.

The class of seventy-one was the first eighth grade class in a totally new school arrangement. While grades one through six remained at the elementary schools, the seventh, eighth, and ninth grades formed a new junior high in the old high school building. Those fortunate enough to be sophomores, juniors or seniors moved into a brand new high school.

In an old building filled with new school mates, new teachers and new curriculum, the class of 1971 made its first attempt at unity by electing class leaders. Tom Brown was elected president; Dan Cogswell, vice president; Nancy Caskin, secretary; and Debbie Martin, treasurer. Chosen to represent the eighth grade in student council were Kathy Smithberger, Beth Murray and Chob Davis while Cathy Smith, Sally Archer and Kathy Smithberger were elected to cheer the Tigerkittens on to victory.

Seventy-one's eighth grade year was a confused and humble beginning, but it paved the way to the greatness achieved five years later.

Upon entering the ninth grade, the members of the class of seventy-one became "freshmen," the supreme rulers at the junior high. With this in mind, the seventy-oners embarked upon a new year led by Don Baker, president; Dan Cogswell, vice president; Nancy Caskin, secretary; and Polly Wigton, treasurer. Student Council members elected were Kathy Smithberger, Chob Davis, Gloria Grimm, and Dwight Mills. Cheering the Tigerkittens onward were Cathy Rinesmith, Beth Murray, Barb Thorniley, Candy Burke, and Nancy Webb. They had quite a bit to cheer about, too, since the baseball team finished undefeated, and the football and basketball teams enjoyed winning records.

As a result of a few class projects, such as a bake sale, a Valentine's Day dance, and an assembly featuring the Columbus Institute for the Blind, and a growing school spirit, the class of seventy-one gradually unified and strengthened itself. With the new strength, the freshmen felt that they were finally ready for the academic and social challenges of the senior high.

Giving up its superiority at the junior high, the class of seventy-one gladly entered the senior high as the "babies." The seventy-oners elected Don Baker, president; Sally Archer, vice president; and Linda Thompson, secretary-treasurer to lead them through their sophomore year. Chosen to represent seventy-one in student council were Gloria Grimm, Candy Burke, Kathy Smithberger, Walter McVeigh, and Chob Davis. The class of seventy-one also supplied the reserve cheering squad: Kathy Smithberger, Cathy Rinesmith, Nancy Webb, Beth Murray, and Darcie Caltrider.

With only three years of high school left, many sophomores began to plan for college and future vocations, but their favorite pastime was throwing themselves wholeheartedly into the senior high social life of after-game dances, Homecoming, and basketball tournaments.

This year the class of seventy-one also built its first float. From the judges' point of view "Bomb 'Em Tigers" was a failure but the sophomores considered it a terrific success.

Money-making projects kept many seventy-oners busy during their sophomore year. These projects included a big candy sale and the traditional car washes, bake sales, and after-game dances.

The class of seventy-one's junior year was a potpourri of unexpected and unforgettable events. Between Mr. Robinson's first six page quiz and the grand finale, the Junior Prom, the mighty juniors encountered a multitude of exciting happenings including Homecoming weekend. Once again, the seventy-oners labored for hours on what they considered a winning float; but they constructed another failure entitled "Roll on to Victory." Undaunted by another loss, the seventy-oners retaliated during Spirit Week by winning the Spirit Jug for their decorations on the third floor.

Leading the spirited juniors were Chob Davis, president; Sally Archer, vice president; and Linda Thompson, secretary-treasurer. Student Council members included Gloria Grimm, Candy Burke, Walter McVeigh, Dan Cogswell, Polly Wigton, Nancy Caskin, and Don Baker. Juniors on the varsity cheering squad were Cathy Rinesmith and Nancy Webb.

With the newly won sense of pride, the juniors sponsored the "Most Beautiful Feet Contest" dance. In addition, they sold calendar towels and sponsored a computer dance. The juniors also served the community by conducting a canned foods service drive.

Pride is being a junior.

Near the end of the year, amid individual thoughts of post high school activities, the class of seventy-one showed its diligence in the production of the Junior Class Talent Show and the coordination of the Junior Prom.

After two months of diligent rehearsals, "The Tonight Show" opened featuring songs, dances, ad-libs, and a candlelight peace symbol. The Talent Show emcees were Rufus Funk and WMOA's Mr. Dick Sams. Backstage, the festivities were run by the fearless Mr. Robinson.

After the fun and success of the Talent Show, the seventy-one juniors united once again in the planning and construction of the Junior Prom. In coordination with the theme "Future Through the Stargate," the gymnasium was decorated with constellations and space-age murals depicting objects of the twenty-first century. A maze-like tunnel entrance studied with stars created an atmosphere of suspense, while streamers of blue and white stars draped across the ceiling to form the midnight sky. Marilyn Curtis was crowned Prom Queen and Jeff Stewart, Prom King as everyone danced to the music of the "Soul Expedition."

With the festivities of performance and pageantry ended for the juniors each one began looking toward his senior year with its responsibilities and prestige.

Traditionally, being a senior carries with it a certain amount of responsibility: responsibility for being the top class in the high school complex, and responsibility to teachers, friends, parents, and, most of all, oneself. Proving that they were worthy of their new responsibilities, the class of seventy-one launched several worthwhile campaigns. The first of these campaigns was a Voter Registration drive aimed at increasing community interest in local government. This was followed by Project Positivism which strived to promote spirit within the school. Later in the year a community Project Positivism was successfully conducted by the seniors.

Assisted by Mrs. Cayton, Craig Conrath, president; Mike Buell, vice president; and Nancy Engle, secretary-treasurer carefully organized several more class projects. Among these were a kick-off picnic, a Christmas party, the masquerade mid-term dance, and the senior boat dance.

Also adding to senior responsibility were the seniors who served on student council and as cheerleaders. Senior student council members included Jeff Starnes, Jim Mankins, Don Baker, Laura Clark, and Dan Cogswell. Cheerleading seniors were Nancy Webb, Cathy Rinesmith, Kathy Smithberger, and Darcie Caltrider. The Tabby mascot was also a senior, Sally Archer.

The most spectacular and unforgettable events of seventy-one's senior year were Homecoming weekend, the class play, and, above all, graduation.

While Homecoming was a disappointment in that the beautiful senior float, "Tiger Queen," lost in the float competition, the seventy-oners mood was somewhat brightened during half-time ceremonies when Marilyn Curtis was crowned Homecoming Queen.

Shortly after Homecoming, the seniors began working on their only money-making project, the senior class play "Harvey." After six weeks of tiring rehearsals and back stage work, the class of seventy-one presented the endearing tale of Elwood P. Dowd, played by Jeff Buchert, and his charming pooka Harvey.

Climaxing the entire senior year was graduation. Filled with tears, smiles, and memories, nearly 450 proud seniors accepted their hard-earned diplomas on May 26, 1971.

"Sunrise, sunset, swiftly go the years." None know this as well as the graduating class of nineteen hundred and seventy-one. It seems just yesterday we were sitting on the bleachers in the Junior High gym, unhappy to be on the bleachers, but happy to be out of class. It seems like just yesterday we rose from our seats in the senior high auditorium as the seniors triumphantly marched out. Now it is our turn to march out — march out to meet the world and to fulfill our purpose in life, carrying with us the memories of the wonderful years at Marietta Senior High School.

Various subjects offered at M.S.H.S. feature studies in humanities. These include psychology, sociology, world geography, problems of democracy, and current events. Activities in psychology include magazine reports, experiments, book reports, research papers, and informative class discussion. In sociology groups of people study other groups and make reports on human behavior. In world geography students (Pic B) such as Trennie McKitrick use large maps to study lands and people of the world. Current events, U. S. government, the Civil War, and the history of the unification of certain European countries are important topics of problems of democracy, American History and world history, respectively. (Pic F) While American history students work on their research paper concerning the Civil War, (Pic A, C, D) Mr. Zollar's POD class presents a court room session. The current events course stresses reading newspapers, periodicals, and discussing what is happening today. (Pic E) The current events class read the daily newspapers.

One of the biggest areas of study at M.S.H.S. is that of language arts, which includes the English Department and the Foreign Language Department. Many courses are offered in these departments, but the most common are the three years of required English courses. In these years students are responsible for carrying a pile of English books ranging from four paperback literature books and a grammar book to a multi-pound literature book, a grammar text, a dictionary, and a Roget's Thesaurus. In Pic. A Russ Cogswell fills his locker with English books. In addition students are responsible for book reports, projects, term papers, panel presentations, and vocabulary study.

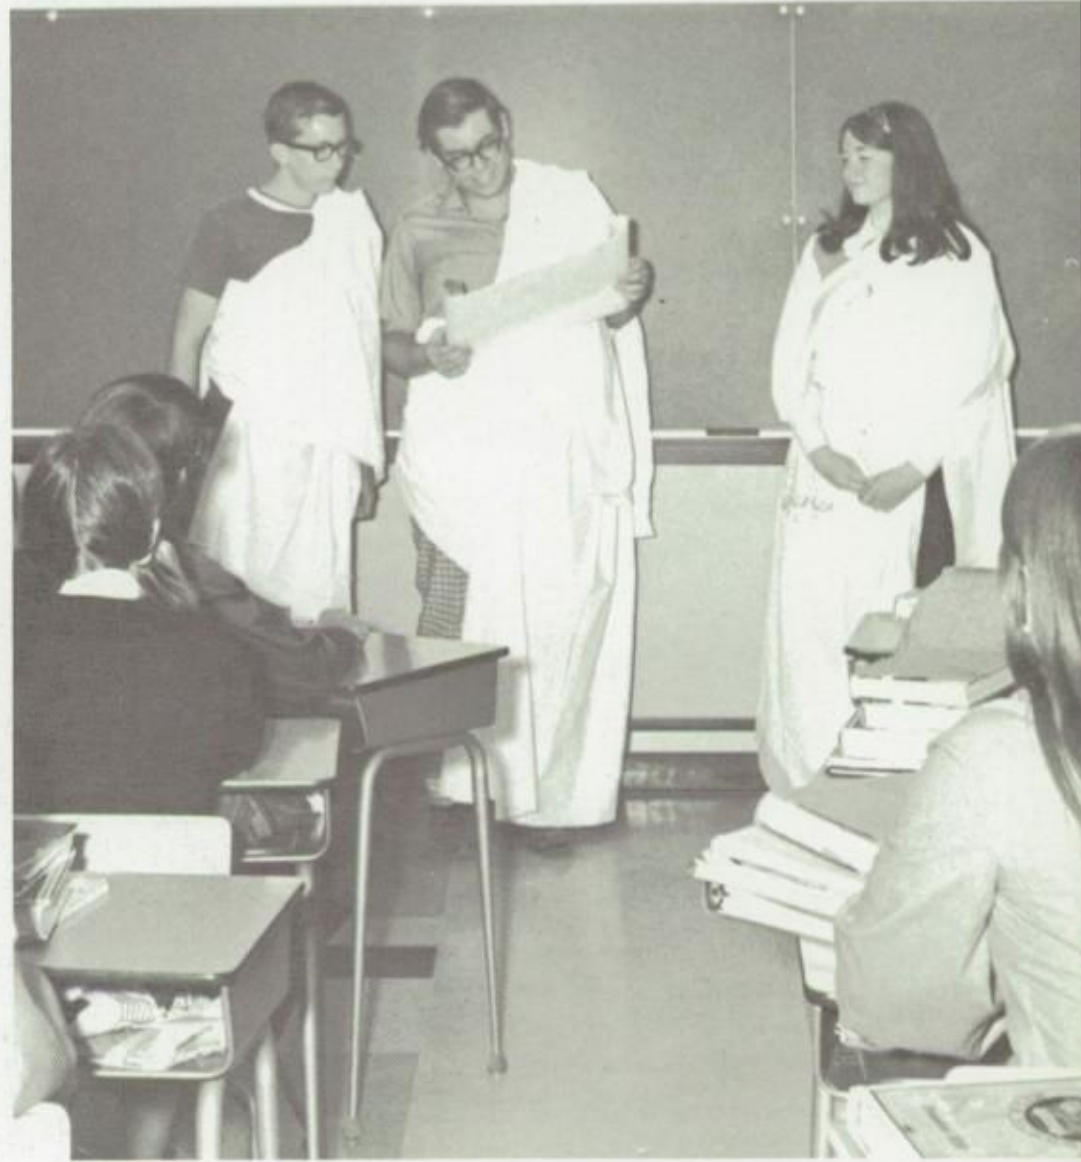

Besides the usual English courses, the student may select an elective from speech, creative writing, journalism, Spanish, French, German, and Latin. If he selects speech, the student will learn to communicate ideas effectively and to use parliamentary procedure. In Pic. B Craig Conrath discusses parliamentary procedure with the speech class. Should the student choose creative writing, he will try to express himself and his creativity through original works such as plays, poems, and short stories. If journalism is his choice, the student will examine newspaper writing and study its fundamentals. In Pics. C and D Chris Longgear and Laura Clark read the daily news. If the student selects a foreign language, he will not only acquire knowledge about the people and customs of another land, but also will meet requirements for graduation or college entrance. In Pic. E Charles Sayre, Mike Johnson, and Sarah Bruce learn Latin. In Pic. F Spanish students use the language lab.

Two likely places to find students struggling for dear life and dear grades are the Mathematics Department and Science Department at M.S.H.S. All students must take courses in these departments in order to fulfill graduation requirements. Available math courses range from general math and business math to algebra, geometry, algebra II, senior math, and SMSG, a course for advanced math students. Pic. A While Mark Brennen shows the class his solution to an equation, Pic. B Martha Wetherholt uses a sliderule to find a quick solution to a difficult math problem.

Science courses include general science, biology, chemistry, physical science, physics, and ECCP for students particularly interested in math and science. The Science Department has special facilities such as the library; Pic. C Science students Joyce Estes, Ed Barry, Walter McVeigh, Brett Ballard, and Connie Temple use the library for research. Pic. D Connie Temple and Brett Ballard give careful treatment to the plants in the plantroom. Pic. E Joyce Estes feeds the fish, while Pic. F Becky Sewell expresses distaste after completing a dissection.

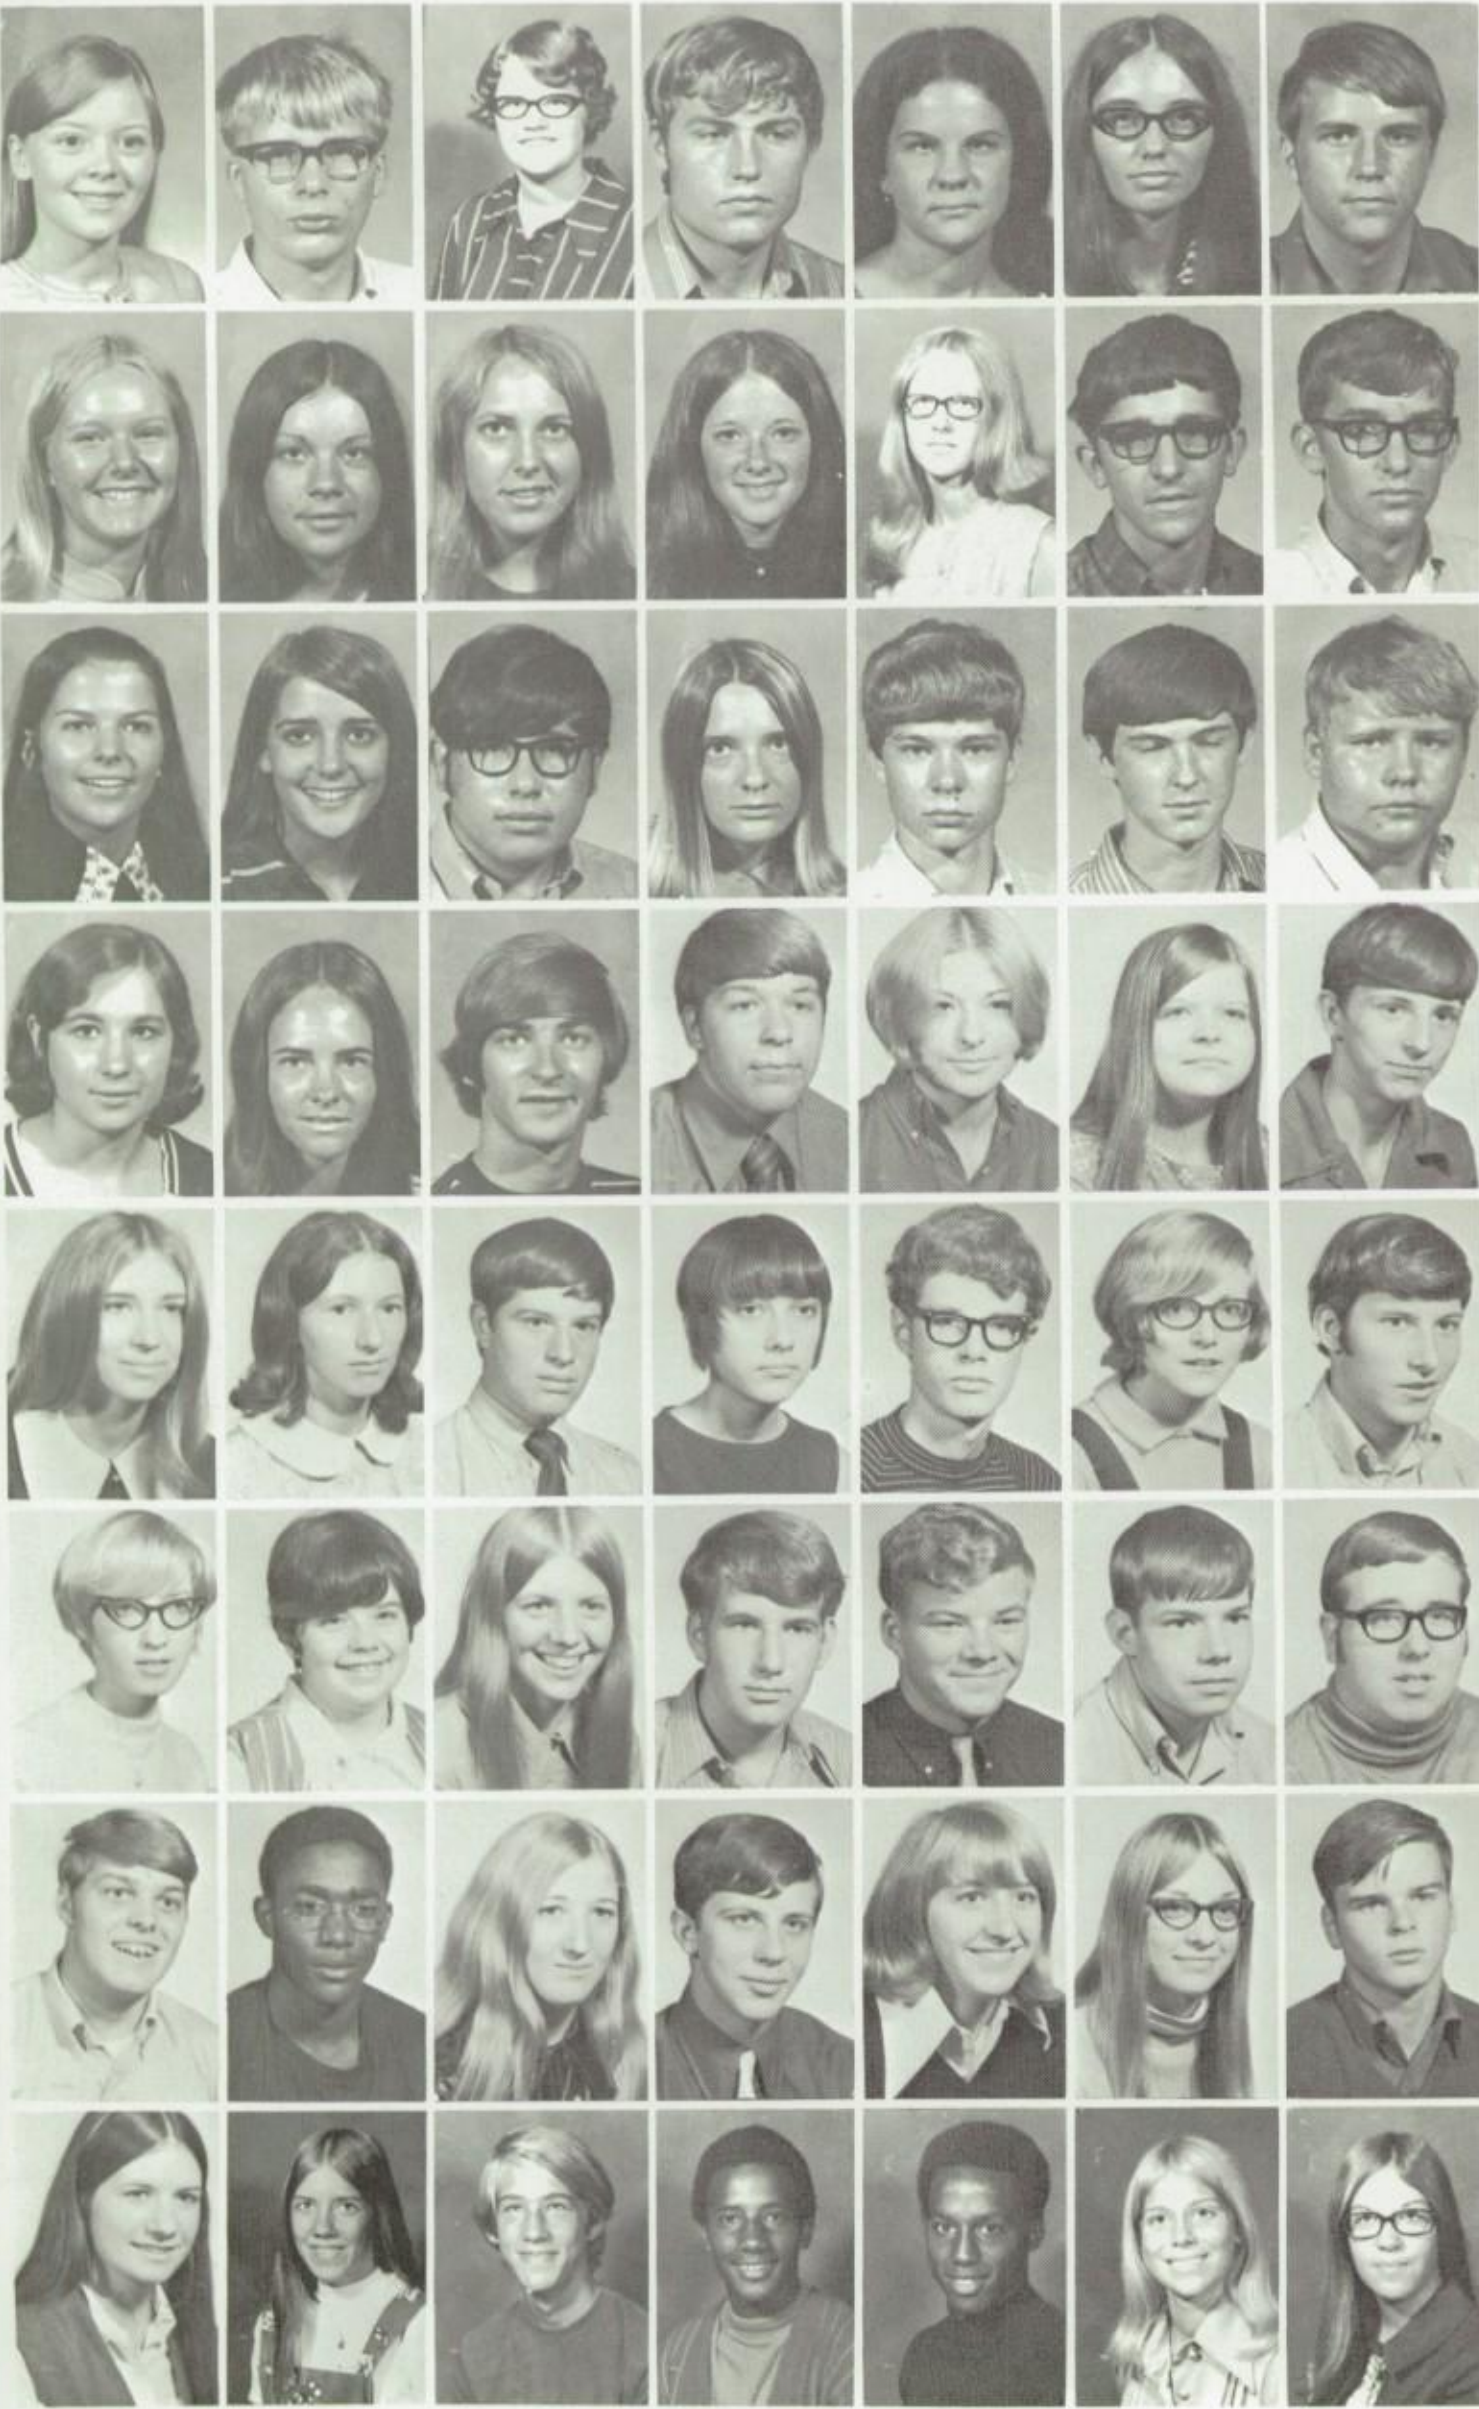

In the Science Department a little imagination and a few chemicals allow chemistry and physics students to perform experiments while occasionally coming up with some unusual concoctions.

In 1967 seventh graders from all over the district came together at Marietta Junior High to form the first seventh grade class at the junior high. To lead it through the year, the class elected Mark Funk, president; Dave Schafer, vice president; Ann Russell, secretary; and Kathie Robinson, treasurer. Student Council members elected were Judy Cole, Pete Taylor, and Daniel Boone. Under the leadership of Mrs. Dorothy Oyster, class advisor, the class held a bake sale and planned for the future.

With Mr. Bert Duvall and Mr. Gary Duvall as class advisors, the class of '72 elected the following officers: Mark Funk, president; Tom Stickrath, vice-president; Jill Starner, secretary; and Kathie Robinson, treasurer. They were assisted by student council members Gifford Nolan, John Stewart, Nancy Archer, and Sue Voelker. As eighth-graders, the class members undertook two projects, a bake sale and helping to decorate the Y.M.C.A. "Tac Room."

Marietta seventh graders hit the hill.

Class of 1972 wins first place in float competition as sophomores.

As the members moved to their last year at the junior high, the class of seventy-two elected the following class officers: Gifford Noland, president; Mike Hushion, vice-president; Jill Starner, secretary; and Kathie Robinson, treasurer. Assisting them were student council members Steve Lilly, Greg Krivchenia, Ann Russell, and Sue Voelker. With advisors Virginia Shallenburger and Albert Martin, the class carried out several projects including after-school candy sales, a Tug-of-War, bake sales, the junior high Christmas Dance, and participation as aids in the science fair. With these projects and plans for the future, the class of '72 was ready to enter the senior high.

Finally the class of seventy-two entered the senior high to become the tenth grade class. With class officers Mark Funk, president; Larry Roger, vice-president; Jill Starner, secretary-treasurer; and Mrs. Cain, advisor, the class experienced some important projects which included an after-game dance and a candy sale which brought them a record-breaking $1,000 profit. Another of the sophomores' accomplishments was their homecoming float, "Nail the Gails", which earned the class first place in the float competition.

Tom Robinson, advisor, and the officers of the class of seventy-two planned an exciting year for the class. In order to finance the junior prom, the class held a toothbrush sale and a talent show. While the Junior Talent Show was a money-making project, it was also enjoyable and gave the juniors the opportunity to demonstrate their talents. Homecoming was another big event for the juniors this year. During the weekend the class held a picnic and watched its float in the homecoming parade. Titled "Swamp the Reds," the float featured a tiger rocking a boat rowed by an Indian. Leading the class this year were Hank Knellinger, president; Jane Stephens, vice-president; and Jill Starner, secretary-treasurer.

Many students spend at least part of their day learning many skills at the vocational-agricultural building at M.S.H.S. Here the students may attend a variety of classes such as agriculture where they learn the fundamentals of farming and plant growth. Industrial art students may take carpentry, woodworking and building projects such as houses, guns, cases, and lamps. (Pic B) A woodshop student carefully works on his yearly project. These students may also work in the metal shop and become skillful at welding. (Pic E) Dave Biehl exhibits his skill while welding a bar. (Pic C) Some electronics students may build radios and others (Pic A) such as Mike Schlicher run different types of electronics machinery. Students who enjoy repairing or building cars learn methods in an auto mechanics class; while those who would rather sit behind a desk work in a drafting class. (Pic D) Drafting students work attentively on their architecture plans

To prepare themselves for work after graduation, business students choose from a wide variety of subjects including bookkeeping, typing, shorthand, and accounting. Some students also use the skills acquired from these courses for jobs after school or during school, as in the COE program.

While students in personal typing (Pic C) learn the fundamentals of typing for personal use, those in (Pic F) learn the more complicated skills of business typing. (Pic A) Karen Hill puts her skills to use in filing papers. In (Pic D) students observe as Penny Riemenschneider take dictation in the shorthand she has learned. (Pic B) Ruth Farnsworth operates an adding machine as part of her business training. (Pic E) Betsy Hinzman displays her skill using the mimeograph machine.

As seventh graders, the class of 1973 planned a successful bake sale under the leadership of Russ Cogswell, president; Jeff Caskin, vice-president; Barbara Stewart, secretary; and Kathy Dye, treasurer. Representing the class in its initial year in Student Council were Jeff Bradford and Ted Strickland.

In the eighth grade, once again with Russ Cogswell presiding, members cooperated in having another successful bake sale to take care of class expenditures.

Guiding a big sophomore year at M.S.H.S. are Sheryl Smith, president; Dave Weekly, vice-president; Susan Sheep, secretary-treasurer; and Mrs. Cain, advisor. During this year the sophomores planned for a car wash, a powderpuff game, and a Mardi Gras festival, a school-wide all-day festival ending in an evening dance, one of the biggest projects ever for a sophomore class to undertake.

Other successful projects included a pool party, two band-o-rama bakesales, a class picnic, a class party, and the candy sale which showed that the class could reach its goal of earning money needed for its future activities. Besides all these projects, the class of '73 was victorious in the homecoming float competition. Titled "Get the red Out," the prize-winning float featured a tiger squirting a king-size eyeball with a large bottle of Visine.

Physical Education, Health, and Drivers Education focus their attention on the development of motor skills

Three important non-academic courses at Marietta Senior High School are physical education, health, and driver's education. Physical education is important in helping each student maintain good physical condition. Activities for boys are swimming, basketball, football, baseball, and other competitive sports along with calisthenics and gymnastics. (Pic B) Roger Satterfield practices on the horse while (Pic F) Rick Coss takes a walk on the parallel bars. Along with opening exercises, (Pic C) the parachute is often used for the exercises, girls also use their skills in gymnastics. (Pic D) Barb Thorniley and Cindy Null demonstrate their skills on the rings. However they spend most of their time in intramurals in competitive cageball and volleyball. With the beginning of this year, health became a required semester course for sophomores. (Pic E) The health students take a break from their usual studies of the body and first aid procedure. Most students have taken or will take driver's education to learn the fundamentals of driving an automobile. Students learn laws and rules in the classroom in addition to parking and actual behind-the-wheel driving. (Pic A) Bill Stevens demonstrates his parking ability.

Home Economics and Occupational Education prepare students for the outside world.

In home economics classes students learn how to improve their home cooking and how to use the kitchen tools as shown in Pics. D, E and F. In the child care course, students make toys and other articles for children. In addition to observing child behavior as shown in Pic. C. The interior decorating course allows students to display their taste and creativity through such studies and projects as arranging furniture attractively and selecting color schemes as illustrated in Pic. B where students look through some carpet samples.

In occupational education students are given special attention in their educational and vocational needs in preparation for future jobs. In Pic. A Peggy Foreshee is getting work experience in the school cafeteria.

Art classes allow students to develop their creativity and imagination. Art students make paper tigers for football games and help with art work on community projects. Here in Pic C Joanne Smith is touching up a painting while Pic B Mike Hush-ion shows some pictures in the art room.

Band members spend time practicing, marching, and rehearsing maneuvers as shown in Pics D and E. At football games, in parades, and in various other musical activities, the band displays skill the entire school is proud of.

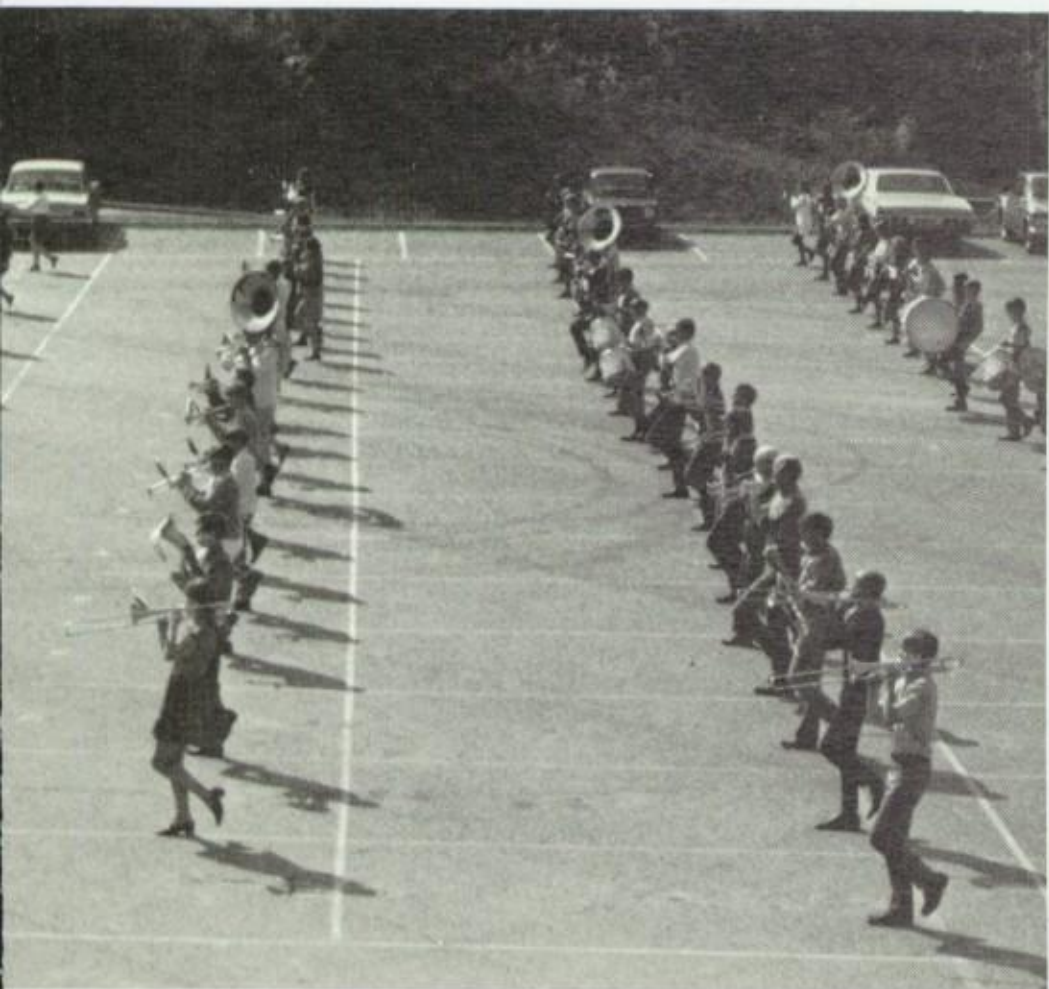

Study hall is the fine arts capital of the school. Here students learn skills taught only in study hall, but like Mark Burke in Pic A, sleep enough, fortunately that the skills are not used too much.

Finally, we move to the last section of the Fine Arts Departments, the library, a room of better reading. Although the library has renovated to make it easier for the student to find a book, some students, like Dave Luton in Pic F still find it difficult to locate a book.

A variety of talents are put to use in the M.S.H.S. Fine Arts Department.

Guidance is their business

Mr. Nicholas (Pic A) and Mr. Powell (Pic B) spend their time performing duties which are designed to make the most of the educational system at MSHS. In addition, they are responsible for every student and the efficient handling of any problems that arise. Our guidance counselors Mrs. Wells (Pic C), Mrs. Duffet (Pic D), Mr. Milhoan (Pic E), and Mr. Pierce (Pic F) are responsible for scheduling each student in his chosen course of study. They also spend many hours counseling students.

Congratulations to the Class of 1971. You are stepping out into the World as the World steps into a new decade. Do your share to transform the hopes of the world for this decade into the realities of peace, brotherhood, and understanding.

Be subservient . . . to high ideals and goals.

Criticize . . . constructively and when there is need.

Build up . . . do not tear down.

Compassion

Compassion is caring for someone special; believing an impossible explanation; walking in the frozen snow, warm because you're with the one you love; reaching out with a helping hand to a brother or sister; understanding the people with whom you live; long-distance loving; being all by yourself, but not alone because you know someone out there cares; the magic of loving — people, life . . .

Publishing an annual requires the talents and energies of many individuals. Accordingly, on this, the closing page of the '71 ORIAN, I would like to express my appreciation to all those who helped.

My first extension of appreciation is to the business staff, who sold enough extra ads to allow for the color pictures in the opening signature. Next my thanks goes to those who aided the photography staff. Best Photo Center supplied our photographers with film and developing services and their own photographer took some of our pictures. To Ron Gates, I would like to extend a very special thank you. It was his camera that snapped many of the pictures which appeared in the organization section. Many of our sports candid shots were supplied by Marietta Daily Times photographers, and Original photographers. Larry Rogers, was always around with his photographic talents when we were in a pinch to meet a deadline. I would also like to thank the teachers who willingly excused staff members from their classes in order for them to meet deadlines. Thanks goes to the editorial and photography staffs who labored endlessly to meet our deadlines so that the book could come out on time.

Lastly I would like to express the greatest appreciation to the two people which helped us the most. First, Mr. Raymond Vadar, Publications Consultant for Delmar Printing Company, whose suggestions and willingness to help were valuable. Secondly, my greatest thanks goes to our advisor, Miss Hill, who continually gave us her help, advice, and service. Other than her journalistic assistance, she supplied the staff with refreshments, donated many Saturday mornings (and other spare time) to help meet deadlines; and in general became more of a friend than an advisor.

The 1971 ORIAN is presented in an expanded collegiate format. Our fifty-third edition, measuring nine by twelve inches, was lithographed by Delmar Printing Company of Charlotte, North Carolina.

Tyographic style was adapted from Look magazine: layered headlines of Universe Bold and body copy of Melior.

Simpson-Lee furnished the 80 pound coated embossed paper stock for 1,025 copies and the Sky Blue Teton end-sheets that bind book to cover.

A Caracul grain with embossed panels that utilize a Deltronic special effect photo constitute our cover. Other Deltronic special effects woven into the page design of ORIAN '71 lend the continuity to give it a totally new appearance.
